

CONVICTION IN WHITNEY TRIAL OK'D

Court of Appeal Affirms Decision Whereby Eastbay Clubwoman Must Serve a Sentence for Syndicalism

Counsel for Defendant Says Case Will Be Carried to High Tribunal; Grounds for Reversal Dismissed

Charlotte Anita Whitney of this city must go to San Quentin penitentiary for an indeterminate sentence of from 1 to 14 years, according to the decision of the district court of appeal today affirming her conviction in the superior court of Alameda county on a charge of violating the criminal syndicalism act.

The decision was written by Associate Justice John E. Richards and concurred in by Presiding Justice John F. Tyler and Associate Justice Frank H. Kerrigan.

This was one of the hardest fought criminal syndicalism cases appealed to the higher tribunal, the record containing 1250 pages. Miss Whitney was convicted on only one count, although there were five counts in the information.

Four grounds for appeal were presented. She was found guilty of "unlawfully, willfully, wrongfully, unlawfully, feloniously organizing, assisting in organizing and knowingly becoming a member of an organization, society, group and assembly of persons organized and assembled to advocate, teach, aid and abet criminal syndicalism."

Attorney Nate Coglian, one of Miss Whitney's counsel, on being informed of the high court's opinion, said: "Until I have read the official record I necessarily will not be able intelligently to discuss it."

Our next step will be to petition for a rehearing in the court of appeals. We have thirty days in which to do this. "If this is denied, we then will take the matter to the Supreme Court."

"The fight is far from ended," Miss Whitney's attorneys presented four grounds in asking for a reversal of the case. First, that the information did not state a public offense, second, that the evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict; third, that the admission of certain evidence was prejudicial to the defendant; and fourth, that the method of examination of one of the jurors by the district attorney was prejudicial.

Verdict Upheld

ALWARD '01

THE best loved professor in the university sat before the fire in the Faculty Club and smoked the pipe that was not good form on the campus. As usual, a group of the younger men were near, and efforts were made to draw him out.

"You fellows, for instance," the professor said, "a few years ago, in one college or another, you were outstanding figures in your classes. Some of the old boys in your faculties were watching your progress and wondering what was to become of you. And they are wondering yet, for you and all of your kind are too busy to remember with so much as a line the men who have equipped you for your life work."

"For once the old man spoke bitterly, and there was a silence in the room."

"They come and they go and all we see of them is the flash in this—well, this warning pan. We take the egg," and he smiled. "Hard-boiled or otherwise, we listen to the picking on the shell. Sometimes a chick is born that we can love, and there are many we like to watch. Except for those who break into the news-papers, they are gone forever. A young fellow, tonight, tried to break through his self-consciousness and blurted out that he would never forget me, but he is gone."

Deputy Sheriff Says That He Joined Order, Which Went Through Ceremony Before Staging of Tragic Raid

More Than 200 Face Arrest if Evidence Brought Out at Inquest Warrants, Says District Attorney's Aid

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—(By International News Service.)—The Ingewood mob outrage was definitely linked with the Ku Klux Klan by a witness at the inquest held today over the body of Constable Clifford Mosher, slain during the rioting at Ingewood Sunday night.

B. E. Shambau, a deputy sheriff, and traffic officer at Ingewood, created a sensation when he announced from the witness stand that he had been a member of the Ku Klux Klan the night before in Ingewood.

Shambau testified that the twenty men who met Friday night just west of the regular ceremonies of the Ku Klux Klan before planning the raid. He said he joined the Klan that night.

Under Sheriff Eugene Eissacallus headed a squad of deputies who kept a wary eye on the crowd. The deputies were armed.

W. C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney of Los Angeles county, said in a report that a holdup was in progress.

"When I rode up on a motorcycle with Clyde Battanna, a masked man stepped out in front of us and ordered 'throw up your hands!'"

"I don't know who fired first," an empty revolver, getting down by the side of the road so I could have what cover there was. Then I reloaded my gun and kept on shooting. Every time I saw a light I plugged at it.

Masked Gunmen Hold Up Jail and Release Convict

VENICE, Ill., April 25.—(By International News Service.)—Three armed and masked gunmen entered the police station here at 4:30 a. m. today, held up the night sergeant, Luther Alvey, and forced him to release a convict, who had been arrested yesterday morning.

After obtaining possession of the prisoner, the men left the building with him and ran in the direction of a waiting automobile a block away. It is thought that they drove away in the automobile.

Thomas escaped from the Chester, Ill., penitentiary in 1915. He was being held for the penitentiary authorities.

Quiz Reporter in Taylor Slaying

Man Who Went to Hawaii After Crime Questioned on Stories He Wrote

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—(By International News Service.)—The Los Angeles newspaperman who was taken into custody here today as he stepped from the steamer Maui from Honolulu and held for questioning in connection with the slaying of William Taylor, a police officer, was George Richards of the San Francisco police department and Frank Winn of the office of District Attorney Woolwine of Los Angeles.

They said that authorities in the Hawaiian Islands had called Woolwine to question Connette on account of stories he was alleged to have written while in Hawaii.

Connette formerly worked on papers in Los Angeles and Long Beach, the officers said, and left for Hawaii after the slaying of Taylor.

On arrival in the island, officers said they were advised, he was engaged on a paper in Hilo, where he was alleged to have written a story dealing with the case with which crimes might be committed in Southern California and how easily an escape could be effected.

When he left Hilo on the Maui, it was stated, the island cabled California authorities.

LADY ASTOR FOR PURITY IN POLITICS

Her Endeavor Is to Instill Vision, Courage, Cleanliness and Unselfishness Into Men in Public Life

NEW YORK, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Lady Astor, in the speech which she prepared today for the annual luncheon of the Associated Press at the Waldorf-Astoria, defined as the pearl of great price which she was striving to place in public life is "purity in politics."

"But," said the first woman seated in the British House of Commons, "to turn to practical politics, what the world now needed most in a practical way was work and trade was the most practical way to start work."

"Establish confidence," she urged, "first confidence between capital and labor, then confidence in your government, then confidence in other nations."

There, she continued, was where the press came in. PRESS CAN UNITE COUNTRIES, SHE SAYS.

It is for the press to unite countries for trade and prosperity and peace. Fifty years ago the press of the American foreign correspondents. "They are most men, a credit to the American press. They are trustworthy. That is the word which the people who know in England."

"If the press wants to unite countries, it can. If it wants to disunite them, it can. America wants peace. America stands the League of Nations. All Europe looks to America, not for large armies, not even for food, but for a great moral lead. Help us!"

"I do not know who has been kind to me since I got home, the public or the press. I know if the press had not been so kind the public would never have been, and I should like to thank The Associated Press for this day's deep and sincere welcome."

16 PERISH AS FLOODS HIT FORT WORTH

Homeless and Property Loss Due to the Swollen River Leaving Its Banks

Fort Worth, Tex., April 25.—Sixteen are dead and property damage estimated at $1,000,000 as a result of the flood which swept Fort Worth today.

The flood waters were reported receding. BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 25.—Ten persons are believed dead, 25 are unaccounted for, 1500 were homeless and property damage totaled thousands of dollars as a result of flood and storms here today.

Official reports of the dead included: Sycamore Park 1 Trinity Park 1 Cleburne Park 5 Dallas Park 2

Seven an one-half inches of rain here, with precipitation and cloudiness further west, set Trinity river flood waters as high as 15 feet deep through parts of Fort Worth.

Torrents poured through the streets from the country and small creeks. Houses were crushed like shells. Police men, firemen and citizens worked in the deluge rescuing men, women and children from roofs and floating houseboats.

Blinding sheet lightning was their only light until dawn. Trinity Park and the Texas league baseball park. Two women were reported drowned at the ball park. Telephone lines saw a man and wife and three children on a floating houseboat full into the water as the house hit a bridge. They did not reappear.

Looking began in the devastated district of Sycamore Heights and the American Legion was called upon to guard the area with orders "shoot to kill."

Lloyd George Raps Poincare; Anglo-French Split Widens

'We'll Have Nothing to Do With Such Policy,' British Premier Says

LONDON, April 25.—(By International News Service.)—Premier Poincare has instructed M. Barthou, head of the French delegation at Genoa, to insist on the terms of his Bar-le-Duc speech and demand a 48-hour ultimatum to Russia, says a Central News despatch from Genoa this afternoon.

LONDON, April 25.—Field Marshal Wilson, chief of the Imperial general staff of Great Britain, in a speech here today, declared: "No reflecting person, seeing the state of the world today, can believe that we are in for a long period of peace."

By S. D. WEXLER. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

GENOA, April 25.—Prime Minister Lloyd George of England today challenged French policy regarding treatment of Russia and Germany as outlined by the French premier, M. Poincare, in his speech at Bar-le-Duc yesterday.

"We will have nothing to do with a policy of that kind," said a statement authorized by the British premier, issued here this afternoon. "We are not afraid of a German or Russian menace, but we will do our utmost to prevent Europe from being made a shambles."

ANGLO-FRENCH GULF WIDENED BY CLASH.

"If peace is not made, if Russia and Germany are left in isolation and misery, the inevitable result will be the conclusion between these two of a fierce friendship directed against the entire west of Europe."

The statement further widens the gulf between the French and British points of view and constitutes another sharp clash in the government's policy in Genoa conference.

'RED' CLAIMS AGAIN PERIL GENOA MEET

Soviets Disrupt Sessions by Insistence on War Debt Cancellation, Moratorium and International Loan

GENOA, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Russia today complicated the Genoa conference by sending Poland a note announcing that Poland considers that Poland has violated both its peace treaty with Russia, signed at Uspa, March 18, 1921, and its Baltic entente agreement, signed at Hissna, March 30, 1922, by participating in negotiations at Genoa questioning Russia's right to negotiate treaties.

GENOA, April 25.—Lloyd George's peace pact for Europe providing for a ten-year truce among nations, was before the Genoa conference today. The French, who have agreed to the non-aggression pact conditionally, sent jurists to meet with British experts to examine a draft of the treaty.

LONDON, April 25.—American Ambassador Child at Genoa has notified the heads of the economic conference that the United States reserves all rights with regard to payment of Russian debts, including private bankers' loans, and advances made to the Kerensky government, according to the correspondent of the Evening Standard, telegraphed from Genoa today.

By HENRY WOOD, United Press Staff Correspondent.

GENOA, April 25.—Allied experts met today to consider a fresh crisis at Genoa, created by new and more imposing Russian demands. Tchitcherin and his colleagues, once the peace cleared of trouble stirred up by the Russian government, produced a completely novel set of claims.

They wanted cancellation of their war debts, a thirty-year moratorium and an international loan. These suggestions the allied members of the experts' commission found most unacceptable and Sir Worthington-Evans informed the Russians it was useless to continue the session.

ASK LOAN POSSIBLE, ALLIES TELL RUSSIA.

Meanwhile the heads of the allied delegations, apprised of Russia's change of front, took a firm stand against the soviet. They took up the first of Russia's proposals and a large international cash loan to Russia.

Following the banquet a class of 100 new members will be presented to Miss West in Odd Fellows' hall, Seventh and Market streets, San Francisco. The drill work of the evening is to be in charge of a team of guards selected from reviews on this side of the bay, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Maude Egan.

WOMAN BADLY HURT.
SANTA CRUZ, April 25.—Mrs. Max Bertmann, wife of a waiter in a San Francisco cafe, was possibly fatally injured here yesterday when she was knocked down by a motorcycle as she was crossing a street. The motorcycle, according to a report to the police, was driven by Forest Benefield. Mrs. Bertmann's skull was fractured and she suffered concussion of the brain, physicians said.

TRICKS ARE USED IN TRAPS TO NAB RUNNERS OF RUM
By W. H. ATKINS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Volstead law enforcers insist they are beating the "bootleggers" at their game.
Their explanation is that the bootleg industry is firmly embedded on the principle of "dog eat dog." Elucidating this theory, prohibition officials say a surprising majority of dry law cases are made up of cases supplied dry agents by bootleggers, or others in the rum-running fraternity.
Bootleggers fall out with each other and do the inevitable "squelch act." The result, they say, is the fact that the government obtains valuable information which might not be secured in any other way, leading to the prosecution and possible punishment of prohibition law violators.
Commissioner Haynes's record today bore ample proof of this contention. State directors reported this as a feature of their work. Liquor informants, within the more restricted bootleg circle, are actually being relied upon to come forward and give the data needed to clamp down the law.
PURPOSE 1 SKEWENGE.
The "informers" in the bootleg set differ in no great degree from other informers. Their purpose is revenge for some act committed by a former confederate. They have lost money, or were made the victims of plots, possibly by other members of their old gang.
A few of the many types of cases were cited by officials today when the records showed hundreds of convictions of rum-runners upon the testimony of their former colleagues as a result of "framed" hold-ups of members of the gang.
Rum-runners in a certain set know when one of their number ventures forth on a dark night for a load of illicit booze. Frequently it has happened that plots have been laid by a few in this inner circle to hold up the rum-runner on his return voyage.
THE GAME HAS PERILS.
The rum-running game is becoming gradually more hazardous and its perils more dangerous for the average even among the care-free bootleggers, prohibition officials maintain.
The profits of the rum-runner also have dropped. Fortunes are not being made overnight. The traffic now is confined to the product of the "corn liquor belts." Demand for it is not keen. The profits are less, because its sale price is lower than on the bonded goods. "Bootleggers" find the public is growing more cautious. It refuses to take the chances it did a year ago.

WORKERS IN ERIN HOIST RED FLAG; GENERAL KILLED
LONDON, April 25.—Workers of Tipperary have seized a carriage factory and hoisted the red flag, according to despatches reaching London late this afternoon.
BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
LONDON, April 25.—A new outbreak of fighting is reported in the Ballagh Ridge district of Angharacy, according to a Belfast despatch to the Star this afternoon. The intensity of the firing forced farmers to evacuate their homes. Railway lines have been fired upon. The special constabulary has been reinforced and the situation is reported serious.
DUBLIN, April 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Brigadier-General Adamson, commanding the Athlone brigade of the regular Irish republican army, was shot dead today near the headquarters of the independent republican forces in Athlone.
An official communique issued from the headquarters of the regular army in Beggar's Bush barracks, this city, said:
"Brigadier-General Adamson of the Athlone brigade was shot dead in the streets of Athlone. The general was returning to the barracks near the hotel where the mutinous troops have their headquarters. He was suddenly confronted by a group of armed men who ordered him to throw up his hands.
"The general, being alone, complied, and while his arms were raised, the assassins deliberately fired into him. Several of the mutineers' officers were arrested.
DUBLIN, April 25.—The reported attempt of Irish workers to proclaim a workers' republic was a flat failure, encouraging provisional free state leaders. The unsuccessful attempt served to indicate the baseness of reports that Communists were strong in Ireland.
Eamonn de Valera, leader of the forces fighting against the free state treaty, continues to call on the people to support only the Dail government, in spite of evidence of his lessening power. De Valera warns that civil war is threatening.
The Dublin Taxpayers' Association today issued a manifesto setting May 7 as the date for a demonstration, asserting the people's rights. This constitutes another move of protest against the methods of the militant leaders of the two Irish factions.

I found General Asao here in the midst of a great troop movement toward Shantung.
"Shantung," he told me, "is the underlying cause of the present war."
"Chang Tso-Lin would control Chinese mineral resources and mines for the purpose of exploiting them jointly with Japan."
"We will crush Chang within a month and win Shantung for China. It is our purpose to strive to accomplish a union with Sun Yat Sen of southern China."

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—Patrolman L. R. Harshbarger late last night shot an unidentified man who, the policeman reported, had first fired on him from ambush.
Harshbarger was walking his beat along Anderson street, near Aliso. Two bullets whistled past his head. He saw a man crouched among the weeds in a vacant lot about 150 feet away. The officer returned the fire and the man crumpled over at the first shot. The man, who apparently was a Mexican, was shot in the abdomen. Surgeons at the receiving hospital said he probably would die.

THE hold-up man held his head so that the brim of his hat shaded his face. "You shut up," he growled, and he began feeling in the pockets of Barnes. With a snort of disgust he turned next to Fairway and for a moment the menacing revolver dropped. Wilson seized the weapon and Barnes, awaking to the opportunity, pinned the man's arms to his side.
"Look out!" yelled Fairway shrilly. "There's another one behind you!"
Barnes and Wilson turned and the hold-up man escaped in the shadows.
"Gosh," said Barnes, mopping his forehead, "we might have known they travel in pairs. One of us might have been shot."
Fairway, in his room, looked at the row of confident faces staring from the photographs on his wall and at the largest, of Alward, in the center.

BOY MOVEMENTS CUT CRIMINALS, WARDEN ASSERTS

San Quentin Head Stresses Need of Early Training, at Luncheon.

"The criminal problem is in its very essence a boy problem," declared Warden J. J. Johnston, of San Quentin prison, to more than 100 members of Kiwanis Club at their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Warden Johnston urged the members to lend every possible aid to the Boy Scout movement and other "boy" movements, as the surest means of reducing the number of future criminals.

"Of the 2337 men imprisoned at San Quentin, more than half are under 30 years of age, more than a third are under 25, and several hundred are under 21," the speaker declared.

DOPE USERS YOUNG.
"Of all the users of narcotics that we have examined at the prison, 70 per cent were under the age of 25, and 50 per cent under 21."

"Don't leave it entirely to the prisons to make social assets out of the men it receives," Warden Johnston urged. "Under conditions such as these, the finest prison conceivable is nothing more than a monument to neglected youth."

"Use the churches, the playgrounds, and the various boy movements—these are the means by which the men of the future are to be saved from crime."

Warden Johnston, the club's guest of honor and principal speaker, described the fight against narcotics.

FIGHT ON NARCOTICS.

"The number of users of narcotics has trebled within the past five years," he said. "In the face of this rapid spread of the traffic, it has been found necessary to make an organized fight. Under the leadership of the Narcotic Control Association, of which I recently was elected president, an organization has been formed in almost every county of the state, and a similar system has been followed in Oregon and Washington."

The narcotic habit is restricted to no one stratum of society, according to Warden Johnston, but is to be found among the "elect" as well as in the slums.

The federal government is soon to be appealed to in the fight against the traffic, Johnston said.

"Although some narcotics are smuggled in from China, and Mexico, and Canada, the bulk of the worst kind of narcotics are manufactured right here in this country," he declared.

Lady Astor Is Striving For Purity in Politics

realize that he's dealing with a human being, and the worker must realize that the employer has got some quality which he needs and lacks, otherwise the scales might be weighted the other way. These seem to be the essential facts which capital and labor should not forget. "They were forgotten in Russia, with dire results. The fault, though, began with the employer in Russia. Don't let us forget that. "Then after getting capital and labor together we must get trade. The only solution for unemployment is employment, for the workless is workless. "TRADE NECESSARY TO WORK FOR ALL. "In the modern world, no big nation can get work for all unless it trades with all. The best way to trade with all countries is to know all countries and that's where the press, you, gentlemen, come in, bringing out the best in all countries. "Get understanding, confidence, good will. You cannot have international trade without international confidence. Russia proved this. Good will is good business. "It is for the press to unite countries for trade and prosperity and peace. Governments depend for their views of foreign countries upon their ambassadors. Ambassadors get to know foreign governments. "Foreign correspondents are unofficial ambassadors. The press can supplement official channels of communication by telling the people of each country, not only about the government, but about the people. They can get the news and spread it quickly. They can get it to the street. "I know many of the American foreign correspondents. And I have heard frequently about the others. They are most able men, credit to the American press. They are trustworthy. That is the opinion formed by the people who know in England. I am glad to be able to repeat this opinion here today. "If the press wants to unite countries, it can, if it wants to disunite them, it can. But the press is just like a person in this. If someone tells you constantly of another's shortcomings and faults and extols their own virtues, you begin sooner or later to avoid that person. "WHAT YOU FEEL CITED BY SPEAKER. "You feel, 'Well, hang it all, they're not quite so bad as that anyhow. I don't like always hearing of people's failings. I like to hear what's nearest the truth about them and then I can judge, whether I like them or not. "So it is with the press. If it gives us accurate, fair news, we can judge for ourselves the white press or yellow. We even see people are not so stupid as they look. Thinking people find out that facts, based on prejudice, cease to be facts. Mr. Davis (John W. Davis, former ambassador to the Court of St. James), told you all of this in a far better style and manner last year. The world has progressed a little since he spoke to you. We must be grateful for the little. "DEEPLY GRATEFUL FOR WASHINGTON PARLEY. "We must be deeply grateful for the Washington conference and we must pray deeply for the Geneva conference. I believe the whole world longs for peace. But we never get anything in this world and we certainly never get to heaven without striving for it. "America wants peace. America started the League of Nations. All Europe looks to America, not for large armies, not even for food, but for a great moral lead. "Lead us towards peace! Help us! Help us! Don't just look on our faults—help us to be better. Gentlemen, if we knew the better way—let us see to it that we take it! Once more I beg of you to remember your motto. If only your motto could be to unite the world, send not thought which would not bless or cheer, purify or heal. Then we should, as the soldiers say, 'get on with the peace.' "In introducing Lady Astor, Frank N. Noyes, president of The Associated Press, said:

L. A. Prosecutor Probes K. K. Klan

admitted his connection with the night riders who perpetrated the raid. "Shameless unwillingly told how the raiders went to get evidence against a supposed bootlegger and were to turn over the evidence and prisoners to him. "Another surprise was sprung when Donald Parker, photographer for the Los Angeles Examiner, said he had gone to the scene of the raid in response to a telephone call; that he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, but had handed in his resignation Monday morning. "R. D. Knickerbocker, a reporter on the same paper, was questioned as to his connection with the affair. "Knickerbocker said he had joined the raiders at the Inglewood garage. "There were half a dozen machines there," he said. "I was introduced to the men in them. "KLAN MEMBERS WERE DIVIDED INTO SQUADS. "The raid was planned at this garage. Later plans were laid in a field near the Fidel Eliduyan home. "The party which was to descend on the Eliduyan home consisted of somewhere between 150 and 250 men, possibly more. It was divided into squads. "There were between 40 and 50 machines in the entire party, when it was finally assembled. "From remarks I overheard, there were machines from Venice, Huntington Park and Los Angeles. "Doran asked the witness if any organization was mentioned. "No," said Knickerbocker. "What was the real object of the raid?" "Eliduyan and his brother were to be taken prisoners and forced to confess to their bootlegging activities. "Violence was to be resorted to, then?" "One of the men said, I believe, not to do any shooting if it could be helped—better knock a man out than shoot him."

Prosecutor's Motion Frees Man Charged

Police Judge Mortimer Smith today dismissed a charge of felony embezzlement against Joel Nelson, on motion of the prosecuting attorney, on account of lack of evidence. After hearing part of the testimony the court decided that it was a civil and not a criminal case. Nelson was arrested on the complaint of H. C. Toons, of 1971 Broadway. He was accused of embezzling an automobile which he was buying on the installment plan, but it developed that he did not take the machine out of the city.

75% OF HOUSEWIVES SOAK EVERYDAY CLOTHES

What does soaking mean to you? Three out of every four housewives always loosen the dirt by letting the clothes soak before they start washing.

With the ordinary soaps, this helped a little but there was still a lot of rubbing to be done. Rinso, an entirely new kind of soap, loosens and dissolves every bit of dirt, without the slightest injury to the clothes. Soak your clothes an hour or more in Rinso and the dirt rinses right out, all but the most stubborn places and those need only a light rubbing.

Rinso is the only soap you need for the entire regular family wash. You don't need any other soap—nor any washing powder with Rinso. Women who are using it say their clothes are spotless and last longer.

CITY BORN IN WAR SHRINKS AS PEACE COMES

LINCOLN, Neb., April 25.—Antioch, "the wonder city," rapidly is slipping back to Antioch, the flag station.

From a sleepy, sun-parched village of 200 inhabitants to a thriving manufacturing city of more than 5000 was the almost overnight transformation wrought on Antioch by war. Thus the town acquired its sobriquet "Nebraska's Wonder City."

With the coming of peace there was no further excuse for Antioch the city. Its industry—potash—was dead.

Antioch, the flag station, in western Nebraska, was surrounded by a chain of stagnant lakes, the waters of which were heavily impregnated with chemicals believed to have no commercial value. With the declaration of war it was discovered one of these deposits was potash. Uncle Sam spent $5,000,000 in a string of potash-refining plants and evaporating systems at Antioch. Lured by high wages, an army of 5000 workers flocked to the place and built the mushroom city.

With the potash market dead, one plant after another suspended. Antioch shriveled almost as rapidly as it had grown.

Today, less than 500 persons claim Antioch as their home, and of these 250 are said to be without occupation. Trains stop only on signal.

BERLIN IS "RAGGING." BERLIN.—"Rag" parties are all the go here this winter. The guests wear rough-and-ready garments, have bolsterous games and lots of jazz music.

TRIPLETS FOLLOW TWINS. BENTWORTH, Eng., April 25.—Mrs. Thomas Fuller, who had already borne twins, presented her husband with girl triplets.

Photo Playwright Leader Will Address Writers

By EDNA B. KINARD.

ica, is announced as the speaker at the Saturday meeting of the Drama section of the California Writers Club in the Y. W. C. A. building. Those who are banded together to study this form of art have been extended the privilege of inviting guests for the hour.
Club members who won places in the recent scenario contest conducted by the Oakland TRIBUNE will give readings of the original manuscripts which brought them distinction.

The section conducts its own dramatic contests, in which deep interest is manifested by local writers.
In the second set of the season the following were selected for honor: playlets, Caroline Katherine Franklin, San Diego; Mrs. Lily
Hughes, Oakland; scenario, Miss Stella Trask, Mrs. Mabel Wharton.
The third set divided honors as follows: playlet, Mrs. Augusta Fowler, Alameda; Mrs. Eva Hamilton,
Yount; Los Angeles; scenario,
Camilla Kenyon, Berkeley; Mrs.
Claire Elliott, Oakland.

Mrs. Frederick Adams, president of the Oakland Club, will comment the members of the retiring board at an elaborate luncheon which will have Hotel Claremont for its setting on Friday. Serious things are to be put away for the day, while the women who have borne the burden of club affairs play for awhile. Covers will be laid for Mrs. Adams, Mrs. E. R. Tutt,
Mrs. A. T. MacDonald, Mrs. John
Nicholson, Mrs. John Chestnut,
Mrs. T. S. LeBlanc, Mrs. George
Samuels, Mrs. H. E. Wharton, Mrs.
E. F. Fenton, Mrs. Nellie Nelson.

With the return of Mrs. E. R. Tutt to town, plans will be perfected for the formal ceremony at which ground will be broken for the new clubhouse north of Lake Merritt. A date during the first week in May will probably be chosen. With the opening of the season Oakland Club expects to be comfortably housed in the new building.

Major William T. Morgan of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker before the Business and Professional Women's Club following the regular Thursday luncheon.
He will tell "Why Men Fail." Major Morgan is widely known as a lecturer, educator and soldier.
The club has announced a card party in the Broadway quarters on Friday night.

Hotel Oakland has been chosen as the setting for the Founders Day luncheon of the Oakland Pioneer Women, which on Thursday, May 4, will mark the first anniversary of the organization of the interesting group. Mrs. Sarah Farwell, president, will preside as chairman of the day. A special committee is arranging the features of the celebration which will be in keeping with the ideals and purposes for which the pioneer residents of the city have come together.

A tea and informal reception in Alumnae Hall on the campus is planned by Mills Club of Alameda county for the concluding function of the season. Mills College girls will provide the program, which will be typical of college life. Mrs.
J. W. Bingham, who is retiring as president of the active group, is including among the guests of honor, presidents of local clubs and many distinguished women in the bay cities.

Oakland War Mothers will meet otic women who gave sons and daughters to the world war have their regular meeting place in Memorial hall, City Hall.

FINE SUGGESTED BY PASTOR FOR CHURCH ABSENCE

LONDON, April 25.—The alternative of going to church, on Sunday or paying a fine is suggested by the Rev. Robert Forman Horton, one of England's most noted non-conformist ministers, as a means of raising sufficient revenue "to run the country without plunging it into bankruptcy." Such legislation, he declares, would net $8,000,000 pounds a year.

Dr. Horton's suggestion is said to be based on a law passed in the reign of Edward VI, when anyone absenting himself from church "without lawful or reasonable excuse" was fined one shilling. The law was repealed, but re-enacted and rigidly enforced in subsequent reigns.

The fifty or more churches in the square mile around the Bank of England contain full congregations in those days, but few persons enter them on week days now except American tourists, and the Sunday congregations, Dr. Horton declares, "do not exceed a baker's dozen." The Bishop of London has even gone so far as to suggest that some of them be demolished and the valuable sites sold to provide funds with which churches could be built in other parts of the city.

County Presidents Council will meet in the Young Women's Christian Association building at 10 a. m.
Thursday for the purpose of electing officers. The nominating committee has been instructed to report at this time.

The remains of the other three cident, Mrs. Bodycote and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Johnson, were recovered shortly after the tragedy.

The boat in which the five were

HARDING AGAIN LEADS SUPPORT TO HOSPITAL DAY

National Observance Will Be Given Service on May 12.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 25 (By the United Press).—President Harding again has come to the support of the hospitals of the United States in their efforts to acquaint the public with the true meaning and scope of hospital service. In a letter to Matthew O. Foley, Chicago executive secretary of the National Hospital Day committee, which has general direction of the observance of National Hospital Day, May 12, President Harding said in part: "I was pleased to learn from your letter that you are going to celebrate National Hospital Day again this year, on the anniversary of the birthday of Florence Nightingale. "I feel that it is particularly worth while to continue this observance. America has led the world by a long way in the development and maintenance of modern hospitals, and in this regard our facilities are far superior to those of any other country. Yet, by reason of the extraordinary demands for care of the disabled men of the World War, we are a long way from adequate equipment. For myself, I have felt that in establishing the great hospital facilities which are needed for the soldiers, we will be proving ourselves with a facility whose usefulness will continue after the soldiers have been properly cared for and discharged. "On National Hospital Day, hospitals throughout the country will arrange educational programs and exhibits. More than 4000 hospitals will participate in this year's observance, and the movement has spread to England and Australia. Canada joined in the celebration last year."

School Title to Land Is Disputed

TURLOCK, April 25.—That the Turlock Union High School Board of Trustees is a very unfortunate, or unlucky body is borne out by the fact that the board has been served with papers by Margaret E. Hutchinson claiming six acres of land which the board had hoped to dispose of by sealed bid this week. The land was once sold to one Wellington Brown, but it was found that the sale was illegal and the purchaser was refunded his money. Just what effect this claim will have upon the proposed sale of the land under the bids has not been determined by the board, the chairman of which states that he does not know of Margaret Hutchinson.

German Locomotives Shipped to Russia

MOSCOW, April 25.—Four of the largest locomotives ever bought by the Soviet government arrived in Moscow recently from Germany, each weighing 95 tons. While a certain amount of section work has been done on nearly all lines under the Soviet regime, foreign railroad experts say the railroad beds are badly in need of repair everywhere and much will have to be done this summer if Russia's railways are to be kept in running order.

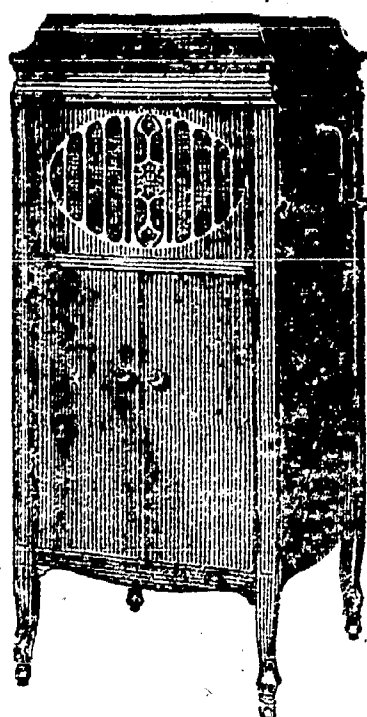

Sunday Closing Law Modified in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 25.—Compulsory closing of the capital's business places on Sunday has brought such a hail of protests upon the head of Celestino Gasca, Governor of the Federal District, that he has modified the order and will allow all classes of business to remain open on Sunday provided they give each employee one day of rest a week.

CAPWELL CLUBS WILL HOLD FETE

Presenting their dramatic and glee clubs for the first time, the Employees' Association of the H. C. Capwell Company will give a home talent show, followed by a dance, Thursday evening at Ebell Club. The affair will be under the management of S. Klarner, president of the association.

The principal feature of the entertainment will be a two-act comedy, "The Red Lamo," in which Miss Una Harris takes the leading feminine role. Others in the cast are Mrs. Barbara Bursik, Henry Cowan, Mrs. Jennie Price and Francis Lustig.

Another feature of the dramatic program will be the presentation of two original skits, "The Worst Way," by Mrs. Hazel Lamberson, and "At Nine O'clock in the Morning," by Miss Wava McCullough, who also designed the costumes.

The Capwell Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Rebecca Rich, will sing during the intermissions.

The proceeds from the entertainment will be used for the association's sick benefit fund, $1000 of which has been paid out to Capwell employees who have been ill since the first of the year.

THE NEWEST RICH

NEW YORK, April 25.—"You can tell she has money; she never washes her stockings; she always has new ones," Mrs. L. C. Gordon thus described in court a tenant she sued for rent.

Man in Million Mum on Break With Madalynne

EVANSTON, Ill., April 25.—Ralph Obenchain, the "man in a million," was back home on Main street today—to stay. Obenchain, who merited page one play when he rushed across the continent to Los Angeles to the aid of his divorced wife, Madalynne, accused of murdering her lover, John Belton Kennedy, has resumed his routine life here. He was found attending a fudge party composed mostly of girls and Obenchain.

"I've done all I can for Madalynne," he said. "I was placed in an extremely embarrassing position from the start of the trouble."

That there had been a break between Obenchain and his former wife, there was little doubt, but Ralph would not discuss it.

"I talked with Madalynne a few days before I left," he said. "We did not discuss love or marriage. I cannot say whether I will marry her after she is freed or not."

Obenchain indicated, however, that he would not go to Madalynne again unless she sent very earnest and appealing requests for him.

WAR RECORD SAVES CONVICT

PARIS, April 26.—Victoire Leprer, a French convict who escaped from Guiana in 1912 and fought in a French colonial regiment during the war, has been arrested, but will be pardoned for his war record.

BIG ARMY FRAUDS INVOLVING MANY OFFICERS FOUND

Goods of Motor Transport Corps Worth Vast Sum Disposed Of.

NEW YORK, April 25 (By the Associated Press).—New army frauds involving several army officers and men of the army motor transport corps, whereby hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of gasoline, tires, spare parts and motorcycles were stolen and sold were uncovered during the roundup of witnesses for the court martial Thursday of Captain George P. Thompson, already under arrest for alleged frauds at the Brooklyn army base, it was announced yesterday by M. S. Mattuck, assistant United States district attorney.

George W. Drake, formerly a lieutenant in the motor transport corps, is under arrest, while a captain of infantry, whose name is concealed by federal agents now seeking him, is accused of being short large sums in his accounts.

Mattuck declared that oil tank drivers would unload five or ten drums of gasoline at the transport corps garage, have dishonest clerks sign for twenty drums and sell the difference among the garages of the city.

There were more than $1000 a week divided from these gasoline sales alone, said Mattuck. A temporary lull occurred, he said, when two of the officers implicated quarreled over a girl.

"But when it was resumed," Mattuck said, "it was on a much greater scale and it was then that the infantry captain became a party to the frauds which, through a former army lieutenant working as a claim agent for an automobile insurance company, were extended to the theft of new tires, motorcycles and spare motor parts."

Even the Crust of Northern California Moving This Spring

WASHINGTON, April 25 (By the Associated Press).—Recent indication from astronomical sources of a "northward crustal movement of small magnitude in Northern California" has led to a cooperative study by the scientific bureau of the government and the Carnegie Institution of Washington to gather precise data on the subject. It was revealed in a paper read today before the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Arthur L. Day, director of the geophysical bureau of the institution.

"The suggestion has been made," Day said, "that the accumulated strains produced by such movement eventually produce rupture and an elastic recoil or earthquake."

It is a part of the program of investigation, he said, not only to "locate the surface displacements, either gradual or disruptive, but also to develop instruments and establish stations for the observation of sub-surface zones of movement."

Policeman Arthur L. Christian, who was also accused by a federal officer of taking "protection" money, was suspended by Chief O'Brien, pending an investigation.

Rawlins, who was caught with marked money on his person, according to the investigators, declared yesterday that he had taken the money in payment of a debt, but added that, on other occasions, he had taken bribe money.

Further investigations are being made by the Police Commission, by United States Attorney John T. Williams, and by a number of special investigators.

United States Attorney Williams announced that it is the intention of his department to charge both the bootleggers and the police under the conspiracy clause of the prohibition law.

Chief O'Brien said: "We are going to clean the grafters out of the police department. There are plenty of honest men in the department, and that is the only kind we are going to have."

"There is going to be no star chamber business about this investigation. The public is entitled to know what is going on, and the public will be freely informed."

Prohibition Director Samuel F. Rutter designated the present investigations as being "only the beginning." Rutter will appear before the Federal Grand Jury today to tell what he knows of the investigation.

Rutter stated that the investigation

U. S. PROBE LOOMS IN GRAFT CHARGES AGAINST OFFICERS

Federal Grand Jury Called to Indict S. F. Policemen in Booze Scandal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—With the summoning of the Federal Grand Jury today to vote indictments against members of the San Francisco police who are accused of taking bribes for the protection of bootleg establishments, revelations of widespread corruption throughout the force are expected.

Corporals, sergeants and even lieutenants of the police department are said to be implicated, as a result of the confession of policeman James Rawlins, who was one of those arrested in last Sunday night's raid on the bootleg establishment of Thomas Joyce, former policeman.

Policeman Arthur L. Christian, who was also accused by a federal officer of taking "protection" money, was suspended by Chief O'Brien, pending an investigation.

ACTORS' EQUITY SPREADS OVER BRITISH EMPIRE

LONDON, April 25.—British South African, Australian and New Zealand actors are following the lead of the American Actors' Equity Association and preparing to declare a closed shop, as advocated by the Australian Actors' Association, representing Australia and New Zealand, and the Associated Actors and Artists of South Africa have already begun to effect a closed shop.

The British Actors' Association has just begun a series of fortnightly meetings throughout England which will end in a ballot on September 22 as to whether the closed shop, as advocated by the Actors' Equity Association, shall be instituted.

It is stated that the ballot will show almost a unanimous desire for the closed shop, and that the actors are working to secure the cooperation of the Theatrical Employees' Union and the Musicians' Union.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has approached the British Trades Union Congress and the General Federation of Transport Workers and asked them to help the general fight by preventing the shipment of non-union actors to the United States.

Sweden Plans Postal Bank Check System

STOCKHOLM, April 25.—A postal checking account system whereby the Swedish postoffice department will be enabled to do a limited commercial banking business is proposed in a bill recently submitted to the Riksdag and sponsored by Anders Oerne, minister of communications. The bill also provides that the present postal savings department be merged with the postoffice service.

Under the proposed system, which is meeting some opposition from the banking interests of the country, small depositors in the organized postal savings banks could draw their own checks instead of buying postal money orders.

STARLIGHT

by Idah M. Glone Gibson

Virginia dines with Herbert Richardson, a man who annoys Virginia with attention, her plight and invites her to his table. There is a scene.

THEODORE STRATTON'S INVITATION.

A smile of complacency spread over Theodore Stratton's face at Miss Sanson's remark. He bowed to her, at the same time laid his hand over mine, which was resting on the table.

"I felt the most delicious little tremors. I glanced quickly at Miss Sanson. She, too, was smiling."

"And Hollywood and the movies and everybody will be nice to this little girl," pursued Theodore Stratton. "Will they not, Maud?"

"As nice as the world, the flesh—" she stopped abruptly.

"Surely you are not going to be personal, Maud," bantered Mr. Stratton.

"Not at all, my dear Ted. I stopped because I thought you might take it to yourself, but the world and the flesh 'and the devil'—"

"Meaning, in this case, the movies," interrupted Stratton.

"Meaning," answered Miss Sanson, "the world where a girl has to earn her living, the flesh which is the human temptation, and the devil who sends his emissaries to make temptation alluring."

"Good lord, when did you turn a preacher, Maud?"

"Is that preaching? I thought I was only answering a question. Perhaps my train of thought was caused by the little comedy which you interrupted by bringing Miss Winston over here."

"Please, please, you did not think that I knew that pig?" I interrupted quickly.

"Why, of course we didn't you baby child, you," smiled Theodore Stratton. That is the reason I walked over to get you."

"It was very kind of you, Mr. Stratton. I do not know what I would have done had you not come for me. Herbert is not yet back, and I did not want to make a scene."

"Do you know Herbert Richardson well?" asked Maud Sanson. It seemed to me that there was more than an idle note of questioning in her voice.

"What has become of that little girl he used to trot around with so much?" she was very pretty. And if I remember correctly she was very clever. I rather expected when I returned from New York, to find that Richardson had placed her somewhere.

"I wonder if you mean Gloria Summers?"

"Yes, that is the girl. Did she fall out with Richardson?" asked Mr. Stratton.

"I didn't like the look he bent upon me. It almost asked: 'Has Richardson transferred his attentions to you?' I never wanted to betray a confidence so much in my life. If only I could have told him that Rita and Herbert were married, I think it would have saved me a great deal of later unhappiness besides giving me a monetary triumph."

"Oh, no! Rita and Herb are very good friends. She is the friend of whom I was speaking. Rita introduced me to Herb. She and I had an apartment together."

"Did?"

"Yes, she has been called away and will remain out of town for quite a while probably."

"And so you are alone now?" asked Maud Sanson.

"Yes."

At this moment Herbert came back and seeing me at the Stratton table, walked over to us with a puzzled look upon his face.

"I brought Miss Winston over here," said Mr. Stratton as he arose, "because you had hardly left, Richardson, when Al Brown went over and sat down beside her. I saw that the child was so annoyed and frightened that I could do nothing else but bring her to Miss Sanson."

"What a wonderful man he is! And how beautifully he put it," was my thought. "He wants me to understand that I am under the protection of another woman—and such a lovely woman. I looked again into Maud Sanson's beautiful face. Some way it had changed. About her lovely mouth was a faintly sarcastic smile and an expression I could not, in my inexperience, fathom."

"I think I had better go over and knock the head off that brute," raged Herbert.

"Pense don't Herbert. Neither of us wants to get into the papers. Was that Rita who called you?" I asked to divert his mind from Brown.

Herbert looked at me and bowed his head. I caught a glance between Mr. Stratton and Miss Sanson and felt the color come into my face. For a moment it struck me that they might not have believed me when I told them that Rita was out of town, and that we were good friends.

"When do you start your new picture, Stratton?" Herb asked.

"In about a week. By the way, Maud, don't you think that Miss Winston is the type of that little ingenu who is always following you around in the script?"

"Perhaps."

"I caught my breath. The word seemed like ice."

"What are you doing now, Miss Winston?" asked Mr. Stratton, turning to me.

"I have about a week's work starting day after tomorrow, at the Kalsey Studio."

"When you finish come around and see me."

I couldn't speak. Theodore Stratton's words opened vistas before me.

Herbert rose to his feet and, thanking Mr. Stratton for his kindness to me, piloted me back to our table. Al Brown and his party had left.

Eicke Is Too Busy to Go After Judgeship

STOCKTON, April 25.—Mayor Dana P. Eicke sets at rest the report that he is an avowed candidate for the district federal judgeship created by Congress for the northern district of California, by a letter he has just written to Senator Shortridge, stating that he has matters which demand his attention in Stockton. The judgeship was never offered to him. He forwarded his application for the position recently, however. His letter does not state that he would refuse the offer were it tendered him. His was the first application from this city. Rumor mentions the possibility of U. S. Commissioner H. R. McNoble of Stockton being chosen. As far as known he has made no move for the office, but it is believed by men politically wise that he could have the plum for the asking.

Russ Relief Stores Total 168,273 Tons

LONDON, April 25.—Walter Lyman Brown, director for Europe of the American relief administration, has announced that between March 1 and March 26 the distribution of American foodstuffs from the Russian ports amounted to 132,229 tons. This brought the grand total arrived in or moving toward the Volga Valley up to 168,273 tons. The average for the twenty-six days of March was 536 tons daily. The total arrivals in Black Sea ports at that time amounted to 282,652 tons, of which 155,32 were corn cargoes. Of the amount moved to the interior 8108 tons have arrived in Tzaritzin, 1385 tons are being distributed in Samara and 3359 in Ufa.

The adult corn ration is also being issued in Kazan, Simbirsk, Saratov and Orenburg.

SOVIET DEMANDS DISRUPT SESSION OF GENOA MEET

Insisted Upon in New

store private property because everything was nationalized in Russia, but they voiced willingness to restore such property or indemnify the owners provided the country's war debts to the allies were cut down and financial help for Russia forthcoming.

demands for the payment of war debts, with the understanding that these debts be scaled down and the arrears in interest either postponed or remitted in part, the Bolsheviks asked the complete annulment of all war debts.

Whereas they previously had agreed to the payment of the financial obligations due to foreign nations, which are usually referred to as the pre-war debts, the Soviet spokesman asked for a moratorium of thirty years on these debts and the cancellation of the interest, according to the allied version of the meeting. This cancellation was to apply both to the past and to the period of the moratorium.

Finally, the Russians made clear that, in refusing to restore private property in Russia, this would not imply any surrender by Russian citizens of their rights to hold property in fee simple in foreign lands, "bourgeoisie countries," where the right to possess property went with the bourgeoisie system.

Such, said the Bolsheviks, were their terms, but they could only grant them on condition that the powers represented at Genoa would first agree to recognize the Soviet government and accord it adequate

Here's Draft of Soviets' Proposals to Entente

By S. D. WEYER.
International News Service Staff
(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service.)

GENOA, April 25.—Russia demands from the allies a five-billion gold ruble loan and a thirty-year moratorium.

These facts are obtained from the text of a tentative draft of the treaty submitted by the Russian delegation to the Genoa conference committee of experts on Russian affairs last night.

The demand for five-billion gold financial help for its proper economic reconstruction.

"Under these conditions," said Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, chairman of the meeting, "we cannot discuss the matter any further. We must refer this matter to our respective governments." It was then decided to adjourn.

Despite the serious outlook the heads of the various delegations have not abandoned all hope. Some, however, frankly informed the Associated Press last night that they saw no possibility of making an arrangement with the Soviets unless the latter radically modified their program.

ALLIES ARE BLOCKING PARLEY, TCHITCHERIN.
GENOA, April 25.—(By the Associated Press).—Foreign Minister Tchitcherin of Soviet Russia declared to the Associated Press today that allied resistance to the Russian principle of nationalization was blocking the economic conference.

"It is obvious," he said, "that the only serious obstacle to peace with Russia and general reconstruction are the pretensions of a few former owners of property in Russia."

The Russian minister's statement was called out by the high tension developed over Russia's claims, which are considered in some quarters as threatening to disrupt the conference. He insisted, however, that it was the efforts of the allies to resist Russia's right to nationalize property and their attempt to infringe upon the sovereignty in that connection that were holding up the work of the experts and delaying the conference's progress.

NO DIFFERENCE IN PROPOSALS, HE SAYS.
"There is no difference in our official proposals of April 24 and my letter to Lloyd George of April 20," said Tchitcherin. "We merely explained and developed the fourth phrase of our note. (That dealing with the restoration of property to foreigners). In my letter to Lloyd George, it was said that we could restore to foreigners who were former owners the use of their property where it was possible. In our proposals yesterday we explained in detail that this was possible only in cases where our social and economic system and our fundamental laws permitted it."

It is quite clear that the maintenance of our sovereign rights and our principles for the reconstruction of Russia are to be strictly observed. To give to former owners the use of their property is therefore possible only in conformity with our sovereign laws and only when our fundamental laws permit this step in our policy of reconstruction, that is, in cases where our economic plan of reconstruction is not thrown aside."

rubles loan was verbal, accompanying the documents, and is believed to be a tentative figure over which the Soviet is ready to negotiate.

SUBJECT OF LONG WRANGLING BY EXPERTS.
The document, obtained exclusively by the International News Service today, was the subject of hours of wrangling by the experts last night, resulting finally in such divergences of opinion that the experts adjourned. It contained in detail the terms exclusively announced by the International News Service last Thursday:

- 1.—Soviet to pay pre-war external debts to foreign governments and individuals.
- 2.—Soviet to receive de jure recognition as the government of Russia.
- 3.—Russia to accept on debts to be annulled.

The breakup of last night's meeting, caused by these terms, has led to rumors that they may call forth an allied ultimatum to Russia. Until the conditions are more fully analyzed this rumor should be accepted with reserve, since the Russian treaty contains sweeping concessions. The document makes no mention of war-time Russian debts, which the Soviet claims do not exist, or have been written off.

HERE'S TEXT OF RUSS TREATY DRAFT.
The text of the treaty follows:

First section.—Upon the condition of the immediate and adequate financial aid for Russia and de jure recognition of the Soviet government.

Article One.—Russia declares herself ready to pay the financial obligations of former imperial Russia, contracted prior to August 1, 1914, to foreign powers and their nationals.

It is understood that the right of reclamation under the terms of this article is confined to those who were holders of such obligations prior to March 1, 1917.

A. This article does not apply to countries which have territorial questions at issue with Russia, which have not yet been settled.

B. Questions comprised in the note to Article 1, London memorandum, shall be reserved for elimination by a political commission.

The section of the London memorandum referred to the propriety of the title "Soviet Government."

TO RECOGNIZE DEBTS TO FOREIGN NATIONALS.
Article 2. The Russian government undertakes to cause Russian local authorities to recognize the financial engagements made by them with the powers regarding debts of foreign nationals.

Not included in the stipulations below are such engagements as made after November 7, 1917, by local authorities which have not, since then, been under the authority of the central government of the Soviet.

The government of Russia recognizes all engagements of public utility enterprises guaranteed by the former government of Russia.

Article 3. The government of Russia declares itself disposed to restore to foreigners the enjoyment of their former properties, nationalized or requisitioned, in cases where this is possible, in view of the economic situation and fundamental laws of Russia, that is, to say, accord them primary right of concession to their former properties or preference participation in societies or trusts in cases where their former properties are part of the possessions of such trusts, provided these rights of enjoyment shall be established for a period and under conditions to be fixed separately in each case.

The government of Russia is likewise to satisfy such claims of foreign ex-proprietors as it will have found just and which do not conflict with present conditions.

Russ' Spokesman Here's GEORGE TCHITCHERIN, head of the Soviet delegation in Genoa, the center of the latest conference crisis.—Copyright, 1922, by Underwood & Underwood.

tions, by free accord between the government of Russia and former owners, as well as settle all their financial obligations and obligations of their nationals toward the government of Russia.

Article 6. Resumption of payments according from the financial engagements accepted by the government of Russia by virtue of Article 1, 2 and 3, including payment of interest, will begin after lapse of (space left blank), after the signature of this agreement.

Bolshevik Blame U.S. for Japanese Army in Siberia

GENOA, April 25.—(By the Associated Press).—While the Russian Soviet delegates to the economic conference have given up their counter claims for damage charged to foreign intervention in Russia, the story went the rounds of the delegation last night that they will hold the United States morally responsible for the presence of Japanese troops in Siberia, since the Japanese occupied the territory not only co-jointly with American troops but actually at the request of the American government.

"In that case," said one of the Japanese jokingly, "if the Bolshevik hand us a bill we will have to pass it on to the United States government."

Auto Driver Held On Drunk Charge

Edward Hicks was today held to answer in the Superior Court by Police Judge Mortimer Smith on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on April 9 by Police Sergeant J. W. Maxey at Fifty-fifth street and San Pablo avenue. His bail was set at $2000.

U.S. Envoy Honored By Japan Delegates

GENOA, April 25.—The Japanese delegation gave a dinner last night in honor of the American ambassador and Mrs. Richard Washburn Child. Viscountess Ishii was hostess, with Baron Hayashi and Viscount Ishii the hosts.

Japanese pleasure was evidenced in the conversations over the creation of the new four-power pact in the Pacific, which links the United States to Japan in what is believed to be a new era of friendship and cooperation in the Pacific and the Far East generally.

BROLASKI LEAVES TO BEGIN SERVING TWO YEARS' TERM

"Master Mind" Surrenders
After Long Battle to Evade Sentence.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Harry Brolaski, czar of San Francisco's liquor ring, is on his way to McNeil Island today to serve a two-year sentence for conspiring to violate the prohibition laws. After every possible legal step failed him in his attempts to gain freedom, Brolaski, accompanied by his attorney, Philip S. Ennele, walked into the court of Federal Judge Frank S. Dietrich yesterday and surrendered.

"Well, George, here I am," smilingly said Brolaski to Chief United States Deputy Marshal George H. Burnham.

"All right, Harry," replied Burnham, "have a seat."

A few minutes later Brolaski was on his way to McNeil's Island under the charge of Marshal Charles E. Green.

Brolaski, Douglas Newton and Jules Gamage went to trial before Judge Dooling in December, 1920, on an indictment charging unlawful withdrawal from bond of barreled whisky. The trial was replete with sensations and showed how cleverly Brolaski had man-ulated the withdrawal of thousands of gallons of liquor. Brolaski and Newton were convicted. Gamage was acquitted.

Brolaski appealed from the sentence and later was denied a hearing by the United States circuit court of appeals. He later petitioned the United States Supreme Court for a writ of review, but this was also denied.

SOCIALISTS HOLD 'OPEN SHOP' TO BE REACTION OF WAR

Convention of Party Will Be Held in Chicago Beginning April 29

CLEVELAND, O., April 25.—That "elementary rights won by centuries of sacrifice have been invaded by post-war reaction" is contended in a Congressional program which, according to preliminary agenda issued from the National Socialist headquarters at Chicago by Otto Branstetter, executive secretary, will be presented here at the Socialist party convention April 29. The preamble to this program affirms the Socialist's ultimate aim of public ownership and democratic control of the great industries, but adds, "While preparing for this fundamental change and working toward it as a final end, we realize questions of grave immediate concern face us today."

"The post-war reaction has chosen the organizations of labor for the principal object of its attack," the proposed program states. "The proposed 'open shop' is an assault upon the freedom of organization of the wage workers."

KANSAS COURT SCORED.
The Kansas Industrial Court with its prohibition of strikes is the latest result of this nation-wide propaganda. Already bills have been introduced in a number of states and in Congress embodying this vicious idea. Anti-syndicalist laws have been passed in many states which threaten to restrict or abolish the workers' right of organization.

The agenda also contained the following statements: "Within twenty years the foreign policy of the United States has witnessed a radical and alarming change."

"The system of shameful profiteering continues unabated."

"Human life and health are still sacrificed for the gains of the masters of industry."

"Widespread and inhuman child labor still curses a national that boasts of its civilization."

"Organizers of the trade unions have been mobbed and driven out of some communities. In the areas of the steel trust union meetings have also been suppressed. These invasions of the most elementary rights won by centuries of sacrifice cannot be permitted to continue without effective protest."

"In this period of widespread unemployment and general distress caused by the greed, planlessness and recklessness of the capitalist privateers, the governing parties have shown a complete indifference to the wants and needs of millions of workers."

The theory and principle underlying the ultimate aim of the party is briefly explained in the preamble, which refers to the Socialist platform as "an interpretation of society and a forecast of what humanity must do to avert the collapse or the destruction of the modern nations. It asserts that 'private property in the resources of nature, the great plans of production, the means of transportation and communication, are rapidly becoming the corporate property' of a class."

OWNERS NOT BLAMED.
"This rapidly centralizing ownership," it continues, "is NOT due to the malice of the owners. The great discoveries and inventions of the past and present centuries have increased our power to produce wealth. To fully use this power great organizations of capital have resulted. The small plant and small industry must give way to the large one. Competition slowly gives way to corporate organization and control. This tendency is inevitable in an age of machinery, steam and electric power and organization."

"But corporate ownership and control enables a class to monopolize the chief benefits of industrial progress. Enormous incomes flow into the laps of the great masters of our industrial life. A struggle ensues between the owners of industry and the masses who work in the industries."

"Modern industry breeds this irrepressible conflict. Socialism will end it. The great industries must pass out of the hands of a small minority of the population into the hands of the nation, organized and administered by the masses and representing the will of all."

REBELS IN BELGIAN CONGO.
BRUSSELS, April 25.—Sporadic rebellious outbreaks are occurring among the natives in the Belgian Congo. As a result, plans are being made to effect reforms in the methods of government.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

MOROSCO DIVORCE PROBE ON FRIDAY

DETROIT, April 25.—Oliver Morosco, theatrical producer, will appear in circuit court here Friday to defend the validity of the divorce granted him March 29, last, by Judge Dingeman. On the result of the hearing, in which Morosco's residence in Michigan two years prior to filing the bill is to be questioned, may depend the legality of his marriage in California. On April 1, to Selma Paley, Morosco claims he was a resident of Bloomfield Hills, a suburban district.

Morosco was granted the divorce under his family name of Oliver Mitchell, three days before he was remarried. Upon receiving news of his marriage the court began an investigation of his residence, and has requested Morosco's presence at the hearing.

A cross-bill, filed by Mrs. Annie T. Mitchell, and naming Miss Paley as co-respondent, gave Detroit as the residence of both.

MAGNESIA FINE FOR ACID STOMACH

Quickly Neutralizes Acidity, Stops Fermentation, Sweetens the Stomach

Nine people in ten, when food upsets the stomach causing distress, think they have indigestion. In reality they are suffering from "acid stomach." An excess of acid in the stomach causes gas, heartburn, bloating and sourness.

To have a strong healthy stomach capable of easily and normally digesting three hearty meals a day you simply must keep these stomach acids neutralized and the stomach contents sweet. No artificial digestives are necessary. Just get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any good drug store and take a teaspoonful of the powder or dry tablets in a half glass of water right after eating or whenever the stomach contents are sour. It is amazing and you will be delighted with the almost instant relief it brings. This famous stomach sweetener combines Bismarck and Epsom salts in desirable proportions and is not only splendidly effective but perfectly harmless. Its regular use keeps the stomach sweet, strong and healthy all the time.

Bismarck Magnesia is well known to druggists everywhere and is used annually by more than a half million people who now eat as they please in real health without fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

FARRAR TO QUIT OPERATIC STAGE

NEW YORK, April 25.—Geraldine Farrar's voice will no longer be heard in operatic roles. It was announced last night, when it became known that David Belasco, producer, had taken her under his management and would star her in dramatic productions. No announcement was made of the time Miss Farrar would make her first "dramatic" appearance, but it is understood she will first complete concert engagements.

Although both Miss Farrar and Belasco refused to discuss the matter, it was understood that the producer already had arranged to have a play written "around" the star.

Miss Farrar made what she termed her final appearance in grand opera at the Metropolitan Opera House Saturday when she sang in "Zaza."

Boys' Week Plans to Be Ready Tomorrow

Plans for Boys' Week will be brought to completion tomorrow at Hotel Oakland at the meeting of the committee of 100 of the Rotary club called by Joseph J. Rosborough, general chairman.

Boys' Week will open Monday and continue until May 7, with each day devoted to a different phase of the boy problem.

To discuss the establishment of a "free zone" on the Eastbay and around the Oakland Industrial district, a meeting of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce Development committee has been called for Monday, May 1.

The "free zone," which is to be discussed at this meeting is provided for in the Jones bill, now before Congress. Under this bill a number of such "free zones" will be established throughout the United States. Into these zones raw materials will enter free of customs duties, and afterward will be permitted to leave the zone, also free of duty, after having been manufactured into products for export.

Feud Leaders Join Drive On Gunmen Of Kentucky Hills

MANCHESTER, Kentucky, April 25.—(By Associated Press.)—Feudists of Clay county, who a few months ago were ready to shoot opposing clansmen on sight, have joined hands with each other and with the civil authorities to clean up Mill Creek, following the action of Circuit Judge Hiram J. Johnson, who has issued warrants for the arrest of two hundred mountaineers. All persons in the Mill Creek territory over 12 years of age will be arrested by the posse in Judge Johnson's drive to stop lawlessness in the Kentucky mountains.

Possemen are combing the hills and bringing in prisoners. Returning officers say many of those for whom warrants have been issued have surrendered. Others are reported leaving the county, and some have indicated that they will not come, according to officers. Judge Johnson's instructions were "to bring the men in," and he announced that he was going to clean up Mill Creek if it required the assistance of 1000 soldiers.

The trouble about Mill Creek began Thursday, when a witness in a land suit was shot to death from ambush. Deputy sheriffs who went to serve warrants for persons wanted in connection with the shooting were attacked by 16 men in ambush. One deputy was shot from his horse and three horses hit by bullets.

STRIKER SHOT, MAY DIE.

DRIVERS PREPARE FOR FRESNO RACE

FRESNO, April 25.—Frank Elliott, one of the entrants in the 1922 rain day classic to be held here Thursday, astonished the spectators at the tryouts held on the speedway this morning when he averaged 110 miles an hour consistently without extending his car to any degree. His car proved to be slightly faster than that of Pietro Bordino, who traveled about 105 miles an hour, and Joe Thomas, 108 miles an hour.

With the arrival of Eddie Hoarney, Jimmy Murphy, Joe Thomas and Ralph de Palma yesterday, everyone of the eleven drivers entered are in town ready to put their automobile chariots through what is expected to be the greatest international battle ever held in this country.

Three Italians are entered and include de Palma, Bordino and Peter de Paolo, all of whom are native born Italians, and considered amongst the best drivers in the country.

The other drivers include Harry Hartz, Roscoe Scales, Jimmy Murphy, Jerry Wonderlich and Art Klein. The race will be 150 miles long for a purse of $17,500.

Woman Love Thief Assessed $10,000

CHICAGO, April 25.—"Love has no price," declared Judge Willis W. Graham, when he awarded $10,000 to Mrs. Rosalind Danish in the case of Mrs. Danish suing Miss Ambert Bright, a divorcee, on a charge of alienating the affections of her husband, Edward Danish, a military salesman.

"I pleaded with her to give him up for the sake of our children," she laughed in my face like a laughing vampire," said the wife.

"I will not give him up. I want him," Miss Bright is said to have replied.

SMUGGLER FEEDS JEWELS TO HOGS

KOVNO, Lithuania, April 25.—A solid gold kettle, hanging from a stick over the shoulder of a ragged refugee who recently passed into Lithuania, has caused several customs inspectors to receive sharp reprimands from their superiors in Moscow. The kettle was dented and covered with tin and its owner was seemingly so impoverished that the inspectors allowed it to cross the border without bestowing more than a casual glance upon it. Many clever schemes to smuggle valuables from Russia are revealed after their authors find themselves safe in Kovno. One traveler succeeded in passing the inspectors with diamonds and other precious stones valued at thousands of dollars concealed in sandwiches. When he reached here he threw the dried bread and meat which had screened his jewels to some hogs. A few hours later he discovered that one of his most valuable stones was missing. Ten hogs were killed between the diamonds was recovered.

UMBRELLA OF BAMBOO SETS STYLES AGAIN

PARIS, April 25.—"April showers bring May flowers," 'tis true enough, but they also spoil new spring bonnets. And so even the most elegant woman must provide herself with an umbrella. In the eighteenth century the umbrella was not considered chic and fashionable people preferred to drench themselves rather than be confused with the vulgar monde. Today it has become a necessary part of the toilette. To be sure it must be a handsome one of rich silk and one of the fascinating and varied handles. There are many in ivory, terminating by the head of a cat, a dog or a ram. Or there may be simply a large, straight handle, handsomely carved in Chinese pattern. The ribs are of ivory, also.

AUTO DROPS 200 FEET; FOUR HURT

ONTARIO, April 25.—Four men narrowly escaped death yesterday when the automobile in which they were riding plunged over a 200-foot precipice in Pigeon Pass, near High Grove, but none escaped injury. The occupants of the car were J. J. Kethery of Liverdale, Calif., president of the Southern California Conference of the Adventist church, who suffered the fracture of his hip bones, bruises and knock; C. C. Matteson, secretary-treasurer of the conference, minor cuts and bruises; V. E. Pugh, Riverside, Young People's secretary of the conference, deep cuts and bruises, and possibly internal injuries, and Dr. S. P. S. Edwards, city health officer of Ontario, bruises and cuts. The automobile turned over six times, Dr. Edwards said.

Attorney of 1850 Days Dies in Reno

RENO, Nev., April 25.—Judge W. H. Virden, pioneer attorney and newspaper man of Nevada and California, is dead here, following an illness of a few days. Judge Virden came across the plains in the early '50s and went with thousands of others to the Comstock in 1862. He at one time was district attorney of Mono county, California, and later served two six-year terms as judge of the superior court.

INSECTS EVICT FAMILIES

CARDIFF, Wales, April 25.—Several families have been driven from their homes in the dock district by insects believed to be of Oriental origin. They breed rapidly and overrun the premises.

THE TARIFF BILL

In the discussions now in progress regarding the Senate draft of the permanent tariff bill, and in reaching final judgment upon the wisdom of this legislation in its present form, it is proper to note the opinion of the man who had very much to do with the framing of the bill.

He is Senator Porter J. McCumber of the Senate finance committee. He presided over the hearings of the committee when the House draft of the bill was revised. Undoubtedly he expresses the majority opinion of his committee, as apparently he expresses the majority opinion of the whole Senate. In a speech in the Senate a few days ago, Senator McCumber said in part:

"While the present unsettled conditions everywhere existing renders the work of those engaged in making a tariff bill extremely difficult, it must, however, be borne in mind that of all times in the history of our country this is the time when a protective tariff is most needed by the American people.

"We have written this tariff on the basis of revenue. We have made no rate so high that it will shut off reasonable foreign competition in our American markets, nor so low that the American manufacturer, with reasonable economy of production cannot hold his full share of the American market. We have tried to protect the American producer, believing he is entitled to the first consideration. We have tried to maintain the standard of labor wage in the United States and the higher standards of living in this country, believing this policy is for the very best interest of both the producer and consumer. At the same time we have tried to carefully guard the immediate interests of the great consuming public.

"We have given the agricultural interests of the country a better standard of protection than has ever been given in any previous tariff bill. We are certain that we have placed no duties above a necessary protective basis. The public will recognize this bill as a consumer's tariff. Its object is to restore the buying power of the consumer."

There can be no question that Senator McCumber speaks with complete seriousness. This is exactly what he believes regarding the tariff bill. There are three statements of special interest.

First, he says the tariff bill has been written on the basis of revenue. It is important, of course, that as much revenue, during the present high cost of government, as possible should be raised by import tariff duties.

Second, he says no rate has been made so high that it will shut off reasonable foreign competition in our American markets, nor so low that the American manufacturer, with reasonable economy of production cannot hold his full share of the American market. This is the correct balance, if it exists. It is just what the tariff schedule should provide.

Third, Senator McCumber says the agricultural interests of the country have been given a better standard of protection than in any previous tariff law. Certainly the farmers have been given the best standard of protection, in the sense that it is the highest standard, comparatively.

A reading of the tariff bill proposed by the Senate finance committee supports the high opinion Mr. McCumber holds for his bill. There may be parts of the schedule that are not the best possible to devise, but Senator McCumber recalls that the present condition of the country and of conditions in foreign countries renders the work of making a tariff bill most difficult. Perfection is hardly to be hoped for. Yet this is a time when, for safety's sake if for no other reason, a protective tariff is most desirable.

ADAM'S OLD PLAIN

It was fully expected that the Daily Californian, the student paper at the University of California, would censure the students who have been invading private property by stealth and purloining flowers. The crime, not serious as measured by the penalties the statute provides, was a grave reflection upon the honor and manliness of the students involved. It laid the foundation for the fear that they could not be trusted to abstain from more dangerous criminal practices.

But it is surprising that the editor of the Californian raises the old, cowardly cry of Adam and blames the young women students. The men stole the flowers for girl students and not for themselves, is the argument of exculpation. It is the old cry of "Eve tempted me."

Who is the weaker man? The one who permitted a woman student to induce him to steal flowers for her, the one who steals for personal gratification, or the one who tries to free himself from the odium of theft by crying that the woman induced him to steal?

We leave it to the defender of the flower thieves to answer.

FOR BUSINESS HONESTY.

In a decision handed down yesterday the United States Supreme Court upheld the authority of the Federal Trade Commission to compel manufacturers to abstain from putting misleading phrases and labels on their products of trade. The court agreed with the trade commission on the interpretation of the law as giving power to the commission to protect the public from practices which constitute "unfair competition."

This case falls into a different category from the numerous ones determined under the pure food law, where manufacturers who misbrand their goods may be punished by fines and the confiscation of the misbranded articles. It extends the federal authority a step further and commands the manufacturer to desist from practices which the Federal Trade Commission holds illegitimate, without the formality of a court trial and the judicial determination of whether an article is misbranded.

The effect of this decision will be to bring about a larger measure of honesty in trade and commerce. The manufacturer will be obliged to so label his goods that the consumer will be able to know what he is purchasing providing he knows the significance of accepted, legalized trade terms. For instance, the consumer will know whether "Merino" on a brand means long fleece wool or a mixture of wool sweepings and cotton.

We do not believe there will be much complaint against this decision of the Supreme Court. The business that aspires to long life must adopt the policy of square dealing with the buying public. Competition is so keen that sharp practice must injure instead of aid the distribution of any given line of products.

Twenty thousand persons are reported to be destitute in the Mississippi River delta district, and hundreds of thousands of acres of plantations are flooded by waters that have rushed through broken levees. There is a great destruction of property and the relief for the homeless will run into millions. This is not a new story. It has been running with periodic regularity ever since the Mississippi Valley was settled. But in time the people will come to understand the economy of adequate measures to protect districts against floods, even though a large appropriation by Congress is necessary.

It continues to be hard for the Bergdoll brothers, notorious war slackers of great wealth. Grover, who escaped from a military guard and fled to Germany, cannot get back his $700,000 which the Alien Property Custodian seized, and Ervin must finish serving his four-year sentence in a federal penitentiary. Now if the government would punish the military authorities who permitted Grover to escape while searching for a "pot of gold," which his attorneys made the basis of a ridiculous story, these cases might be wiped off the slate.

Hitherto a husband has been annoyed at something and remained away from his wife for five years. But a New York statute now declares him to be dead after such an absence.

"GOOD BUSINESS."

Some time ago a railroad official observed, no too seriously, that, since passengers vote at primaries and elections, it might be a sound policy for the carriers materially to reduce passenger rates without awaiting the results of the agitation for the reduction of freight rates.

Freight does not vote, but its shippers and its consumers do. The distinction therefore is superficial. Yet the railroads are to be commended for their action in reducing summer travel rates in all parts of the country. Round-trip tickets to California, to Colorado, to New York, to Niagara Falls, to the Michigan and Wisconsin lake resorts, and so on, are to be much cheaper than for some years, and the time limit on excursion tickets is to be more liberal.

It is to be hoped that the railroads will find profit rather than loss in these substantial reductions of passenger rates. Tourist and vacation travel should be stimulated by them. The improvement in business since the first of the present year will make it possible for tens of thousands of men and women to do a little traveling this coming summer after a period of enforced and rigid economy.

Perhaps the effect of the lower summer rates will serve to convince the railroad executives that it is worth their while voluntarily to try the experiment of a marked reduction of freight rates. Some have asserted that in existing circumstances reductions would not increase traffic, because of the world trade situation and the comparative lack of foreign demand for American commodities. This, however, is by no means the general view. There is the domestic market to be considered, and if farmers, wage workers and other consumers continue to refrain from making necessary purchases, as trade papers allege they do, high transportation costs very likely constitute an important element in the situation. —Chicago Daily News.

The ruling was made after a state superintendent of education had discovered an old statute which contained the provisions. Not only is the smoker to be denied the chance for a schooling in Kansas but the entire institution in which the smoking takes place is to be penalized. Unless we could run very, very fast or fight very, very well we would not pick a Kansas school as the place to light a pipe.

We are quite certain that despite that helpful little hint a lot of folks will be just foolish enough to get flustered. When one sees a burglar going through his belongings it is no longer good form to yell, shake or hide. Reason the thing out. Say to yourself, "Is this a burglar or can it be the landlord adopting an unconventional method of collecting rent?" Ask yourself if your eyes deceive you; ask the burglar if he is certain that your stuff is worth the effort, and request of him the loan of his revolver. If he is a reasonable burglar, in no time at all, he will be at your mercy. With a little intelligence on the part of the victims, and a few "don'ts" from the police, the crime wave will stop waving.

NOTES and COMMENT

New York Times on flappers: "A correspondent finds in middle-aged flapperism a trait which distinguishes America from the Old World. The peach-bloom cheeks of youth may be rugged and its petals lins incriminated; but," writes Mary Churchill Humphrey, "when one looks into young eyes one sees drifting dawn mists, while in their shadows twinkle paling stars." Far otherwise the middle-aged flapper. Not life but movement is what she seeks. "It is she who does over the old house or builds a new one—where her husband is deposited while she goes out in search of 'culture.' As a result of so much movement and so little living, our mature folk lack the inner resources of affection and of mind which give Old World culture a soothing background, a middle-distance that at once stimulates and satisfies."

The Boston Transcript discusses mail order ethics: "Recently a boy of 16 years, arrested for an attempted hold-up in this city, stated that the pistol which he used was purchased of a mail order house for one dollar. The boy said he had seen the weapon advertised, and that it came to him through the mails. If his story was true, the only step he had to take to get the pistol was to send the firm the dollar and his name and address. Governor Cox says he cannot believe responsible business houses would lend themselves to the purpose of providing young boys with firearms. But up to this time the story told by the boy with the dollar pistol has not been denied."

The Fresno Republican on the revival of the Ananias club: "The Ananias club, made famous by Theodore Roosevelt, has been revived by Woodrow Wilson. Honorary membership in the club has been extended to Joseph P. Tumulty and Senator Reed of Missouri. The announcement that Senator Reed had been elected to membership was not received with surprise. Reed and Wilson, although still registered in the same political party, came to a parting of the ways long ago."

The Medford Mail-Tribune is still discussing Arbuckle: "All Fatcat Arbuckle films have been barred by Will Hays, movie director. The leading custard pie heaver of creation may have to make good on his threat to go to work, and thereby still his art. He can probably get a job from the jury, who not satisfied with an acquittal, wrote a note to the judge alleging the object of their charity, 'acted in a manly manner.'"

New York Herald on wild horses: "Wild horses of the Western plains have long had a romantic association and many writers of fiction have spun tales of stallions that rivalled domestic bred horses in beauty of form and fleetness of foot. As a matter of fact, the wild horse is generally small and unprepossessing owing to generations of inbreeding. about YOUR HEALTH

Why You Ought to Eat Many Foods Rich in Cystine

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health,
New York City.

There is one food without which life would soon end. Even when the deprivation is brief the period of the fast is nothing more than mere existence. The class of food to which I refer is called protein, or proteid.

The proteins differ chemically from the fats and carbohydrates. The latter consist of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen. These three elements are found in protein, too, but its chief ingredients are known as "amino-acids."

An amino-acid is an acid made by a certain chemical combination containing ammonia. Nitrogen is a constant and essential element of ammonia, and, consequently, it is found in all amino-acids. Since there are at least eighteen amino-acids to be found in proteins, you can readily see that nitrogen is the chief element of protein food.

The framework of the body and all the different tissues are formed from protein. Therefore, the amino-acids are everywhere.

For instance, one of these acid constituents of protein is called "cystine." This substance is found in hair, horn, hoof, the outer layer of the skin, nails, feathers, wool and elsewhere. You will see, therefore, that you must eat sufficient protein to supply your cystine needs or the hair will not be nourished.

The proteins contain various minerals, such as iron, phosphorus, iodine, copper, manganese and zinc. Cystine is the chief sulphur-carrying element of the body, and is essential to hair growth.

Many experiments have been made on animals to determine what foods are necessary and what quantities are required for normal development. In this way it has been found that the hairy covering of a new-born animal is dependent upon the intake of cystine of the mother. There must be such protein feeding as will supply enough of this sulphur-carrying amino-acid.

We are apt to forget that all our tissues and body cells seem to require certain specific elements. They are satisfied with nothing except the one particular thing they crave. A child crying for candy cannot be mollified by any substitute. Our bodies and their different parts call for their special goods, and nothing can take the place of the foods demanded.

Stunted growth and underdevelopment can be traced to wrong feeding. For instance, animals fed on a diet, ample in quantity, but deficient in certain elements, will not grow. In such cases the addition of cystine or some other amino-acid will cause speedy resumption of growth.

There is a popular idea that eating peanuts is good for the hair. Peanuts are rich in the protein which carries amino-acids, but, unfortunately for the hair-growing theory, cystine is not found in such large proportions in peanuts as it is in some other foods. So to raise hair, which contains 12 per cent of cystine, some other protein must be selected.

I am not prepared to say that the eating of whole wheat will grow hair on a bald head. If I could say that it would do more to popularize entire wheat bread than all the campaigns which are now directed against bleached flour. It can be said truthfully, however, that whole wheat, oatmeal, dried beans and peas are rich in sulphur. Likewise it is found in eggs, milk, potatoes and lean beef. Gluten, rye and bran have high percentages of sulphur.

You must see that eating should not be merely a matter of filling the stomach or of satisfying the cravings of appetite. Unless you learn the values of foods and their importance to your health and comfort, your eating will be haphazard. You cannot be a normal, efficient human being until you eat as you should. You cannot eat as you should till you have learned the secrets of right food selection.

FIRE LAW TO BE ENFORCED DRASTICALLY

As a result of the constant disobedience of fire warnings in the downtown streets by autoists and truckmen, Fire Chief Sam Short and Police Chief James Drew today conferred with Commissioner Frank Colbourn with a view to enforcing such ordinances drastically.

It is held that Oakland drivers give little attention to the fire buzzers or the siren of an approaching fire engine, and make little effort to get out of the way. One of the recent results of this attitude was injury to a battalion chief, who turned out of his way to avoid collision with an auto.

"The situation is serious because it invites accident," said Colbourn. "A heavy fire engine cannot always stop in time to protect some careless auto driver, and sooner or later, there may be fatal accidents. A few arrests might cure the disease and prevent such fatalities."

Henpecked Males Hide Conference Plan From Wives

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 25.—The place for holding the annual meeting of the Ancient and Honorable International Order of Henpecked Husbands, an organization having headquarters at Sowerby, near Bradford, is being kept a strict secret. Last year's meeting, to insure freedom from wifely interference, was held at an isolated spot on Blackstone Edge Moors.

Much time will be required at this year's gathering for the consideration of a long list of applications for membership, as each candidate must be severely cross-examined regarding his fitness to be dubbed "well and truly henpecked."

The organization's stationery declares the order dates back to 3897 B. C.

WIFE STABS AS CHILDREN ARE SLURRED

Infuriated by a slur, which she declared was aimed at her two children, Mrs. Edna Thomas, 28 years old, of 3243 Adeline street, seized a butcher knife today and buried it between the shoulder blades of Manuel Mintz, 3448 Harlan street, according to police reports.

Mintz was taken to the Emergency hospital. He was weak from the loss of blood. Several stitches had to be taken in the wound. Physicians say he will recover.

Mrs. Thomas was taken into custody by police at her home late today. She was taken to the central station, where she was held in default of $2500 bail.

According to the story told by the woman to the police, she has been separated from her husband for about three months. He has been living at the Mintz home, and this morning she went there, she said, to give him a letter from the prosecuting attorney's office, regarding the support of the children.

Mrs. Thomas said that Mintz objected to her coming to his home and ordered her out, saying that they could not be "annoyed" by her. He refused to let her give the letter to her husband, she said and when she persisted, yelled something insulting about her children, and started to strike her.

Mrs. Thomas seized a butcher knife which was lying on a table and stabbed him, she said.

ARMISTICE ON IN ICE CREAM WAR

The latest "ice cream war," involving Richmond manufacturers, will come to an end this week when Commissioner Frank Colbourn will introduce an ordinance permitting Oakland health inspectors to inspect out-of-town ice cream factories, providing the latter pay the cost of such inspection.

The trouble began when a Richmond ice cream firm desired to enter the Oakland field. The Oakland officials refused to allow it because the factory was held to be not properly inspected, or certificated. The Richmond concern felt that Oakland was discriminating.

S. J. RAILROADS FILE PETITION TO ABANDON LINES

Definite Action on Street Car Company's Request Is Delayed by Council.

SAN JOSE, April 23.—Formal application of the Peninsular Railway company and the San Jose Railroads for permission to abandon certain portion of their lines in this city was filed with the city council here last night by F. E. Chapin, general manager of the railroads. The application was filed pursuant to instructions of the state railroad commission at the time the commission justified the claims of the railroads for abandoning their tracks.

The council briefly discussed the proposed abandonments, thereupon placing the application on file temporarily. Next week, it is understood, definite action will be taken.

A routine of street improvement matters occupied the attention of the council during the brief weekly meeting. Plans and specifications for the improvement of Fourteenth street from Santa Clara to Empire streets were adopted, as were resolutions adopting plans for specifications for the improvement of Eleventh street between Willow and Virginia streets; resolutions ordering the improvement of Vine street from San Carlos to Balbach street and resolutions fixing official curb grades and position of curbs on Fourteenth street between Walliam and Margaret streets.

STOCKTON, April 23.—Following the complaint of L. E. Campbell to State Labor Commissioner John S. Blair, investigation reveals the fact that nurses in local hospitals are being worked more than eight hours a day and full seven days a week. The Dameron hospital was found to have violated the law, but inasmuch as this is the first offense no prosecution will follow, but communications have been sent to every Stockton hospital containing a warning. The hospitals claim that owing to the scarcity of nurses they are obliged at times to require nurses to work long hours in emergency cases.

Campbell was a patient at the Dameron hospital and observed conditions. He claims that by the existing system the institutions curtail expenses.

SECOND DISTRICT 'MOTHERS' BEGIN YEARLY MEETING

By EDNA B. KINARD.

PETALUMA, April 25.—Welcome by the mayor, president of the board of education, the Chamber of Commerce, the Ad Club, the Women's Club and Petaluma Federation of Mothers' Club, more than 500 delegates to the annual convention of Second District, California Congress of Mothers, today took possession of the city. "The Child" has summoned the mothers to the important meeting from all points in the coast counties from San Francisco to the northern boundary of Humboldt including Alameda and Contra Costa counties.

The presence of Mrs. Milton Higgins, president of the National Congress of Mothers, and three other national officers including Mrs. David O. Nease and Mrs. H. E. Farnsworth, vice-presidents, and Mrs. H. N. Rowell, Berkeley, treasurer, is lending importance to the two-day conference. These distinguished leaders were speakers this afternoon.

The Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs took honors in a report on philanthropy presented today by Mrs. P. L. Pease. A total of 12,573 garments, 1555 pairs of shoes, 453 hats, 518 pairs of stockings and 33 complete layettes have been distributed in the past seven months, the survey showed. In addition there were seven automobiles, loads of supplies sent to the Junior Red Cross Shop besides innumerable gifts of household furnishings.

Among the resolutions are: A protest against the hazing of junior students in schools throughout the state.

ST. This morning's parade was said to be one of the largest ever witnessed in the city, the presence of several scores of brass bands, some with more than 100 members, drum and fife corps and well-trained drill teams, practically every state in the Union, giving the event a military character. By proclamation of Mayor McShane, today was a holiday and all city schools, offices and many of the mercantile and manufacturing establishments were closed.

L. A. Woman Dies in Street; Probe Opens

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—An inquest has been ordered over the body of Mrs. Anna W. Bishop-Rabe, an elderly woman, who was found unconscious in the street. Mrs. Bishop-Rabe and her daughter waited together for a street car. When the car came, the daughter stepped aboard and paid the fares. Then she looked behind her. Her mother was not there. At the next stop, the daughter left the car and returned to the point where she had waited with her mother. The latter lay in the street, near the car tracks. She was taken first to a hospital and then to her home, where death followed.

The coroner said he was unable to account for the bruises on her head, unless an automobile had run her down.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 24.—Miss Ina Carpenter, leading woman in a Hawaiian musical comedy company which has been playing the smaller cities, is dead at Kingston, 15 miles north of here, from burns received Friday night, when her costume, made largely of straw, caught fire. Lester Smith, her leading man on the stage and her fiancé in private life, had just reached his lines.

"If she can't go with me, I'll stay and burn with her," when he heard a scream from her dressing room. He ran from the stage and found which he quickly extinguished, but not before she had been fatally burned.

HOUSEWIVES IN WORD WAR OVER ARBUCKLE FILMS

Motion Praising Hays' Action Withdrawn After Keen Opposition Voiced.

After a spirited verbal battle, which threatened for a time to halt the meeting, a motion to commend Will Hays for his ban on Arbutus films was withdrawn yesterday, and members of the State Housewives' League unofficially joined the support of the recently acquitted star.

The affair occurred at a meeting of the league in the city hall yesterday when Mrs. H. H. Platts introduced a motion praising Hays' action.

The opposition came from Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon, state president, who declared that she did not want the league to go on record against Arbutus, as the trial proved him not guilty.

"I do not believe Arbutus was guilty," she told the meeting, "and I feel the jury thought him innocent. It is not for this body to go on record as condemning him, since he had been held up to public scorn and finally exonerated."

Discussion waxed hot on the issue, many members of the club siding against Mrs. Cleverdon. At the height of the debate Mrs. Platts announced that she would withdraw her resolution rather than let the matter go to a vote.

"When a mother of children takes the stand of Mrs. Cleverdon it is time the motion was withdrawn," Mrs. Platts said.

DETENTION HOME FOR JUVENILES IS SCORED BY JURORS

Santa Clara Grand Jury Files Report; Urges Cut in the Number of Townships.

SAN JOSE, April 25.—Report of its findings as a result of many weeks of inquisitorial work was made to Superior Judge J. H. Welch in the Superior Court here yesterday afternoon by the 1922 grand jury of Santa Clara county.

The report contained nothing of the sensational, a scoring of the Juvenile Detention Home of the county featuring. Officials of the county, the jury held, are conducting their offices efficiently and economically.

The jury recommended the consolidation of the fourteen townships of the county into seven, thus to effect a tremendous saving for the county. The investigation showed that while $48,920 were being paid in salaries for justices of the peace and constables in the various townships, the revenue brought into the county by reason of activity of these officers totaled only $3269. The county Board of Supervisors has taken up the matter of consolidation and definite action is anticipated at its next meeting.

The Juvenile Detention Home was attacked both from the standpoint of morality and health. "One bad boy can make many boys criminal under the herding together system now in operation," stated the jury, recommending that steps be taken to provide separate rooms for the delinquents.

Sheriff George W. Lyle came in for the commendation of the grand jury. The jurors expressed themselves as "confident that Sheriff Lyle is endeavoring to the best of his ability to enforce the laws of the county, including laws against bootlegging." In connection with the bootlegging question, the jury recommended the addition of two new deputies to the sheriff's office in order to aid in handling the situation.

Contrary to the precedent established by grand juries of the past fifteen years, the county jail was not commended in bitter words. Rather did the jury state the jail, under Sheriff Lyle and his deputies, had been placed in as nearly perfect condition as is possible with the lack of equipment and conveniences present. It recommended, however, the improvement of the jail by the placement of sectional steel cages equipped with up-to-date toilet and wash basins; room for the sick; provision for visitors; padded cell for insane patients; dining room for the prisoners and rooms for the sheriff and under-sheriff's offices.

The jury also recommended the purchase of a high-powered automobile for the exclusive use of the sheriff's office in answering emergency calls.

Concerning requests that it investigate the Perini, Christian Divine Way cult and its colony at Alma, now being probed by state and county authorities, the jury expressed the belief that proper steps were being taken in the matter.

Conditions at the county almshouse and county hospital were reported by the jury members as being satisfactory. Particular praise was given the county hospital, which it was pointed out that some conveniences could be added for the benefit of the inmates of the almshouse.

The jury recommended purchase of a safe for the care and protection of all papers in the county recorder's office until such time as they have been entered into the records. A safe was also recommended for the office of the county assessor.

County officers were instructed to pay into the county treasury all money received by them at frequent intervals, the jury stating that, as in the instance of the county hospital, funds were allowed to accumulate too long at a time. One justice of the peace, the report says, withheld deposit of $150 of the county's money for more than six months, but that as no criminal intent could be found no further action was taken.

The district attorney was instructed by the jury to obtain all information possible within the next few months on the question of adding land ownership in Santa Clara county and to make known his findings to the next grand jury. Investigation of the county charities was conducted on an extensive scale, many complaints having been made. The jury reported, but added that "all alleged shortcomings seem to have been remedied and the representative citizens acting in the cause of humanity, without compensation and with much sacrifice, will give full attention to these matters as in its judgment will be for the best interests of all concerned and absolutely remove all cause for any unfavorable criticism."

County to Collect On Ditch Expenses
STOCKTON, April 25.—The Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized District Attorney Edward Van Vranken to bring action against the directors of the South San Joaquin irrigation district to collect moneys expended by the county in the maintenance of bridges and culverts in that district. The county claims the expenses must be met by the irrigation district and the latter's directors claim that under the law the county must stand the cost. This will be a test case. On April 11 the irrigation district resolved by resolution that it would not make further repairs on bridges, but would continue its efforts to build new bridges wherever necessary.

Players in Merle's Mission Romance

The outstanding feature of the Centenary Celebration to open May 1 at the University of Santa Clara will be Martin Merle's great romance of the days before the Gringo had gathered everything in. In the group of three are shown VINCENT J. O'DONNELL, as Fra Miguel, M. C. DUNNE as Padre del Real and W. R. COSTELLO as Padre Felipe. The single figure is CHARLES R. BODENIN, the pathetic figure of "Soquel."

Merle's Great Mission Play, Centenary Feature

UNIVERSITY OF SANTA CLARA, April 25.—The Mission Play of Santa Clara, Martin V. Merle's dramatic classic, which scored a notable success when given its premiere in 1913 at Santa Clara, is to be presented again, as the outstanding feature of the coming Mission Santa Clara Centenary celebration. Five performances of the play will be given, on the evenings of May 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, in the University theater, Santa Clara.

For several weeks past Merle, who is a graduate of Santa Clara, having written the play and dedicated it to his Alma Mater in memory of the late Rev. L. Kenna, S. J., former president of the university, has been rehearsing the daily rehearsals of the student cast of sixty, and perfection in detail and accuracy in setting have been attained.

The leading role, that of Padre Jose Maria del Real, superior of the Mission Santa Clara, during the who have lodged him in the county jail to await his arraignment. He is accused in the complaint of the Costa brothers of this neighborhood of embezzlement. They allege that he wrote insurance and failed to make returns on it to his employing office. It is stated that a number of similar charges in other sections of California face the accused.

CAMPAIGN OPENS TO OBTAIN CITY SWIMMING TANK

Councilman Comes to Aid of Lads Chased From Creek Pools by Police.

SAN JOSE, April 25.—City Councilman W. L. Atkinson is the central figure this week in a campaign which he has launched to obtain for the kiddies of San Jose a modern municipal swimming pool, his plan being an aftermath of the routing of a number of youngsters by police officers from the Coyote and Guadalupe creeks recently.

Atkinson champions the proposed municipal pool as "one of the city's biggest and most urgent needs, in which expression he finds the quick sanction of every boy in the community, as well as others."

"I haven't forgotten the old days when we boys made a grand dive for the swimming pool under the trees," he told THE TRIBUNE today. "We used to get chased by the cops then just the same as the kids did here the other day. And there never was a better, more wholesome or more healthy exercise than that we enjoyed in our trips to the old pool, either."

San Jose could sink an artesian well in Ryland park at a cost of not more than $10,000, and it would be the best money the city ever spent. Can't heat the water without a heating plant? Certainly not, but does the water have to be heated? Did you ever go swimming in a creek with heated water when you were a kid? I guess not. To tell you the truth, the youngsters don't like this heated water business.

"True, there are three swimming pools in the city and at Alhambra park now, but none of them are free and besides, all of them are indoor tanks. The average boy likes to do his swimming out in the open, with the sky for a roof and the sun for warmth."

San Joseans would find it one of the finest things they ever did for the youth of their city if they would just sanction this proposal for a municipal tank. It would make a healthier city and a brighter one and would keep many a boy from places of amusement that he ought not to be in."

J. E. HANCOCK MAY BE CANDIDATE

SAN JOSE, April 25.—Joseph E. Hancock, principal of the Grant grammar school here for a number of years and one of the county's most popular educational leaders, is considering the requests of friends that he enter the field as a candidate for county superintendent of schools at the fall elections. He made this statement today, although making it definite that he had reached no decision in the matter.

"I have been urged by many of my friends to enter the race and I am considering the matter thoughtfully," he said. "Naturally any of us seek promotion, and the position of superintendent of the county's schools would be a promotion that I should appreciate. I believe that I could serve in such manner as to satisfy the people. I am desirous, however, that I know it is the wishes of my friends that I enter the fight before I finally do."

SLAYS HIMSELF
VENTURA, April 25.—William G. Kurtz, 64 years old, a realty operator of Chicago, shot and killed himself at the home of his sister on a ranch at Ojai, about 12 miles from Ventura, according to word received here. By his own wish his body will be taken to Los Angeles for an autopsy. It is said, as he believed that might aid science in devising treatment for a stomach ailment from which he suffered.

Seeress Waits at Church For Missing Hash Artist

SAN JOSE, April 25.—The familiar old ditty entitled "Waiting at the Church" proved highly appropriate today for Mme. Olga Matama, 29, seeress of San Francisco, when the Grecian fortune teller failed to peer beyond the veil of her own future and consented Saturday to come to this city with Michael Dooley, proprietor of a Tenth street lunch counter in San Francisco, to be married.

The seeress today had asked the police authorities aid in seeking for Dooley among the missing.

Her powers of clairvoyance, she fears, have forsaken her.

Mme. Matama and her prospective groom reached San Jose early Saturday morning, according to the story told by the fortune teller to-day. They went immediately to the office of County Clerk Henry

DESIRE TO CLIMB SIX ON TRIAL PUTS LAD IN JAIL FOR RACE RIOTS

SAN JOSE, April 25.—Scaling buildings after the midnight hour and scampering over roofs is the latest form of exercise in San Jose. At least it is the hobby of 19-year-old Tony Devido of this city.

Tony was captured by a squad of police officers shortly after midnight this morning after he had frightened occupants of rear rooms in the Hotel Monticomey when they saw him crawling cautiously along the roofs of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association. Black's Package Company and other buildings.

When finally landed after a spirited chase, the brandishing of revolvers in the hands of police and the flashing of a battery of searchlights, Devido could give little or no reason for his being on the high roofs, a dangerous pastime at the best. Ultimately, however, he admitted he had a reason.

"Oh," he ejaculated, "I was just doing it for exercise."

Hardened officers who have listened to many a brazen excuse for apparent offenses promptly proceeded to give Devido the laugh. They chided him for his "lilly" excuse. The youth saw the futility of his argument and promptly indicated a quality.

"Well," he said, "I don't exactly mean exercise. You see I've always liked to climb, so I was just climbing around."

Devido is being held in a cell at the city jail pending his willingness to divulge more satisfactory reasons for his curious escapade. Whether he was in the act of "seeing what he could see" from the dizzy heights of the office buildings or whether he was on the roofs

BANTA CARBONA BOND ISSUE IS 'UNDER DEBATE'

Newly Organized Irrigation District at Tracy to Clear Misunderstanding.

TRACY, April 25.—The land owners in the new Banta Carbona irrigation district are looking forward to an exciting meeting at Banta tomorrow afternoon.

This district was organized March 7, 1922, and comprises nearly 20,000 rich acres lying to the east of Tracy. Some of the land owners within the district have been adverse to irrigation and the $800,000 bond issue, which the state engineer estimates is necessary to construct the system. The district's engineer, McCray, figures that the cost will not exceed $400,000 and this would leave $200,000 in bonds in the district's treasury. There have been some warm disputes between some of the farmers as to the merits of irrigation and its cost. This is expected to come to a head Wednesday afternoon at the general meeting which the directors have called to lay the whole matter open before the landowners interested. Experts on both sides of the question will be present to make statements of their cases, and a representative of the state engineer's office will be there to give his official data.

Leaders for the movement for irrigation hope that matters will be so explained and some misconceptions so cleared up that the necessary amount of signed acreage to the petition requesting the bond election may be secured at this meeting and the bonds be voted by a large majority. The petition has very nearly enough signers at the present time.

Ministers Meet to Allot Church Work

MODESTO, April 25.—Ministers from all parts of the county gathered here today. They represented all faiths. They gathered to discuss the survey announced last week in which it was shown that the farmers of the county are not attending church.

Greater cooperation is suggested in the conclusions offered in the survey, and it is urged that the churches allot among themselves certain territories that now are unchurched.

The survey was made in only two counties in the state. It blamed prosperity and material progress for the small church attendance. The Rev. J. C. Pinkerton, secretary of the State Church Federation, is here to speak, as is Dr. W. A. Brown, formerly of the International Sunday School Association.

SONOMA ATTORNEY QUITS IN HUFF OVER PLAZA ROW

Standard Oil Co. Abandons
of Historic Ground.

SONOMA, April 25.—The lot 100 feet square in Napa street opposite the Maffel block, has been leased to the Standard Oil company for a service station. The company had been negotiating for 75 feet of the plaza but terminated the negotiations when local obstacles loomed up. A vote of the people favored the lease by a big majority but the oil company decided to avoid discord and settled on a site in the heart of the business district. Work on the service station will start shortly.

As a result of the fracas between City Attorney Poffe and the Board of City Trustees over the Plaza lease, the city attorney has resigned. His opinion was negative to the lease. Ex-Judge Denny formerly of Santa Rosa is being mentioned as Poffe's successor.

Miss Annie Laurend, a Sonoma girl, is bookkeeper at a big hotel at Galveston, Texas, this season.

"Looping" Murphy, holder of the world's 100 ft. 4 D. consecutive loop record, made at Atlantic City, will come to Boyes Springs for the big carnival which is to usher in May day in the Valley of the Moon. Murphy is coming to visit his friend Mr. Reid who was in the World War. He will give exhibition flying while here.

R. F. Campbell, prominent retired orchardist, had his leg amputated in a San Francisco hospital this week following acute circulatory trouble from which he suffered. Campbell is over 70 years of age and is a pioneer resident of Sonoma Valley.

Burglar Confesses To Prison Record

SONOMA, April 25.—Robert Knur, charged with breaking open the cash register in the Elk restaurant and taking a small amount of coin, proves to have a long criminal record. When about to be fingerprinted he "came through," realizing that the officers would soon gain possession of all the facts pertaining to his criminal career. His law-breaking career began in 1889 in Kansas City, Mo., when he was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. Since that time he has served five terms in different penitentiaries in Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and Utah. Most of his crimes were grand larceny, but in Utah he served fifteen months for arson. Knur was employed at the local restaurant as cook and had been left in temporary charge.

SPINACH CROP BIG.
RIVERBANK, April 25.—Spinach from the E. K. Yagaki ranch, just across the Stanislaus river from this place, is keeping the McHenry cannery busy at present. Large trucks carry the green stuff from the fields to the cannery. Experts pronounce this spinach as fine as any they have ever seen. It escaped injury from the recent hard frosts. The cannery is packing more than 1000 cases daily. The season will last for nearly three weeks longer.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, April 25.—Establishment of pea packing plant here is being planned by the Farm Products Sales Company, according to F. J. Cunha, manager. Cunha said today that negotiations have already been entered into and that the company will probably use the floors of the Hunt Brothers' packing house for crating peas and preparing them for shipment to eastern points.

"There is a growing tendency here," Cunha said, "to ship East, and while present local market crops have succeeded in keeping Alameda county peas in local markets, it is most probable that by mid-season practically the entire crop will go East."

Andrew Garin, local grower and shipper, has already started shipping peas to the East, but is operating independently of local sales organizations. Cunha said that the Farm Products Sales Company intends to undertake shipping large consignments of peas directly to the Eastern markets.

Cunha said today that in the Santa Clara valley, comprising the hill and lowlands of Alameda and Santa Clara counties devoted to pea growing, more than 1000 men will be employed in harvesting the pea crop this year. Wages for the work, he said, will range from $2.50 to $2.75 a day, or $2.25 and board in some cases, or about 75 cents a sack. Work in harvesting the crops, according to local growers, will continue at this volume here practically through the fall.

Peas are now selling on local markets at from 9 1/2 to 10 cents a pound, a price which buyers declare are an assurance of success to growers. The yield is rapidly reaching its height. On Sunday 250 75-pound sacks of peas and 422 60-pound boxes of new potatoes were brought in. Potatoes are bringing on local markets from 3 to 3 1/2 cents a pound.

CONSIDER ZONE LAW.

HAYWARD, April 25.—Application of zoning rules to the building of houses and the establishment of requirements which will make possible the greatest architectural beauty to the community are being considered by Mrs. Ruth L. Rogers, town trustee. Mrs. Rogers said today that the matter is only in the formative stage, but that she may present some modifications to the present building ordinances to the board at an early meeting. She is now consulting with other members of the board, local builders and landowners.

C. W. White, city attorney, said today that the board has now before it several proposals attempting to effect a moderate regulation of building which will not interfere with the city's growth. "The matter should," he said, "be brought to a settlement, but it is a very delicate question and must be given a considerable amount of consideration."

Citizens of Hayward, land owners, home owners and renters are apparently united in their intention to make Hayward a "home town." It is the general opinion here that Hayward proper should look to the upbuilding of suburban homes as its basis of growth and should develop as strong as possible an agricultural district about it. Realtors seem assured that with the securing of improved transportation between San Francisco and Oakland and Hayward this district will assume great importance as a suburban home location. Al-

HOUSE NUMBER CHECK-UP ENDS

MARTINEZ, April 25.—The house numbering committee of the Chamber of Commerce reports a complete canvass of the homes and buildings in Martinez, having finished the work on Saturday afternoon.

O. K. Smith, accompanied by R. E. Borland and J. A. Royster, has gone from house to house with the number book and in the infrequent cases where the houses did not have numbers or the incorrect numbers were displayed have been given the correct numbers.

"Smith said this morning that he found comparatively few places which were not numbered. From reports which we have received, we expected to find a great many unnumbered homes, but the residents of Martinez have complied with the ordinance exceptionally well," he stated. "Within the next week a final check-up will be made on the notices we have served, and those not complying will be subject to the terms of the ordinance."

Smith said that the next action toward the free mail delivery, for which the chamber is working, will be the signing and the completion of the side walk survey already laid. These matters, it is expected, will come up before the city trustees in a short time.

City Treasurer Is Made Nice Present

SONOMA, April 25.—The starting of the city treasury since 1913 no city treasurer of this town has been entitled to any fee whatever for his services. And all these years the city has been paying its city treasurer fees. Prior to 1913 the state law fixed the salary of such officials in towns of certain rating at 1 per cent of the income and outgo and, it is stated, court decisions have held that such percentages meant only 6 per cent of all money handled, but not of the same money received and expended. Judging from these decisions and what has happened here, the city treasurer's salary of $1000 a year has been paid double.

In 1913 the state law was repealed, and now a deep search is on here to ascertain whether or not the city trustees ever passed an ordinance to pay the treasurer for no trace of such proceedings has been found in the minutes of meetings for 1913, but it is the opinion of City Clerk Ballard that such an ordinance was passed. The search for it continues.

City Treasurer Williams is not perturbed nor are the trustees excited. The opinion seems to prevail that no steps will be taken in an effort to compel restitution in case no salary-providing ordinance can be found, for the board is satisfied it received full value for the money paid.

ILLUSTRATED FARMING.
HAYWARD, April 25.—Illustrated talks on intensive farming methods are planned by the Alameda County Bureau, according to Russell T. Robinson, county agricultural agent. "I have talked the matter over with B. H. Crocheron of the state department of agricultural extension service," Robinson said, "and we have agreed that illustrated talks will be available."

By means of the illustrated talks, Robinson says, the latest methods utilized in sections leading in various departments of agriculture will be shown to farmers. Alameda county farmers are taking an increasing interest in scientific farming, and with this interest it is believed that the talks can be made of particular value.

TO DISCUSS SCOUTS.

HAYWARD, April 25.—The Boy Scout problem here will be finally discussed at a meeting of the Scout committee of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night, according to Russell T. Robinson, chairman. H. J. Benish of the Oakland Scout Council, who spoke to the members of the Chamber at a luncheon yesterday, will consult with the committee.

Members of the Chamber, M. A. W. Lee, secretary, said, gave the Scout move universal support. No negative answers were made to a questionnaire issued during the luncheon asking the opinion of the members on the question.

SPEEDER IS JAILED.

HAYWARD, April 25.—Unable to pay the $10 fine imposed upon him by Judge Jacob Harder, M. Crowell, 1205 Peralta street, Oakland, was yesterday sentenced to two and a half days in the county jail on a charge of speeding. Crowell was arrested by Joseph Brandt.

Max Kaplin, 1913 Tenth avenue, Oakland, who entered a plea of not guilty, and altered his plea to guilty, was fined $20 by Judge Harder. The case of Charles Coates was continued until Monday. Coates pleaded not guilty.

TO GIVE OPERETTA.

TURLOCK, April 25.—The students of the Turlock Grammar schools are to produce the operetta "The Stolen Flower Queen" at the California Theater on May 5. They are doing well with their rehearsals and with the production their orchestra will make its initial public bow. The musical department of the high school have in hand an operetta also, "Princess Chrysanthemum" which will be produced by Mrs. Roach, musical director of the school, on May 11.

G. A. R. TO CELEBRATE.

TURLOCK, April 25.—The members of the Turlock G. A. R. are making elaborate plans for the commemoration of the centenary of General Ulysses S. Grant. The ceremony will take place in Central Park and will last from 3 o'clock to 4:30. The American Legion will have supervision of the parade which will be one of the features of the exercises. Most of the local orders have signified their intention of participating in the ceremony.

REAL RACE THIS TIME.

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—Wallace Reid, hero of many an automobile sweepstakes staged in front of a movie camera, and who has sent an entry for the 500-mile race to be held at Indianapolis on Decoration Day, yesterday received word from the East that the mount he intends to pilot in the classic has been completed and will be shipped to the Indianapolis speedway within the next few days. The Decoration Day sweepstakes will be Wallace's first attempt at the professional racing game.

TURLOCK CROPS UNDAMAGED BY LONG COLD SNAP

Spring Weather Gives Plantations in Melon Center Start For Good Crop.

TURLOCK, April 25.—The settlement of the weather here, and the change from the cold to the warm days has had a wonderfully beneficial effect upon the crops in the Turlock district. A week ago the thermometer went down dangerously near to the freezing point, in fact on two mornings it registered 33 degrees, but no damage resulted. The melons and cantaloupes are now well on the way, and most of the growers are feeling perfectly comfortable with regard to the prospects for the season.

Some few growers had the misfortune to sow seed that failed to germinate, but most of them have made their re-sowing. The farmer always has something to contend against however, and here this season there has been some damage from the wire worms which come along in the cold weather and eat off the young succulent shoots. With the warm weather they disappear into the earth. With the plants well on the worms do not affect them.

The sales manager of the Melon Growers' Association reported to-day that the association now had a membership throughout the district of about 35 per cent of the growers, some districts showing 100 per cent. They are still signing up, and the association expects to start the season with a far greater percentage than they at first anticipated.

Richmond Resort Closing Is Asked

MARTINEZ, April 25.—A suit seeking to close a resort in Richmond known as "The Chicago Inn" and alleged to be the property of Dan Wagner (colored), under the red light abatement act, has been filed in the superior court by District Attorney A. B. Tinning. It is asked that a temporary injunction be issued against the property and after proper showing is made in court that the injunction be made permanent, according to the abatement law.

The complaint sets forth that the property has been used for immoral purposes. Wagner is a well-known colored man of Pittsburg, where he has been conducting a "colored men's club" for the past three years. He formerly conducted a club in Richmond.

WOMEN WHO SELL
RUM, PROBLEM TO FEDERAL JUDGES

Number of Female Booze Runners Steadily Increasing, Say Dry Agents.

By W. H. ATKINS,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—What to do with women bootleggers is perplexing Federal judges. Their number is legion. "Bootleg kings" are pressing them into service as cunning "tools" for the distribution of their concoctions. They are being prosecuted in steadily increasing numbers in the courts.

The Department of Justice records today revealed the fact that women, as illicit rum peddlers, are practically immune from punishment under the present method of dealing with them in the courts. The records showed that an astonishingly large number of the offenders prosecuted so far this year in Federal courts have been women.

But the big fact stands out in these records that it is almost impossible to convict women, even in the face of what appears to be irrefutable proof offered in evidence. When convicted, the courts generally have exercised leniency and taken the personal bonds of the accused.

NUMBER IS INCREASING.

Prohibition officials reported today that women rum runners, equipped with limousines and driving enough to use, guns are increasing in numbers at an alarming rate. They are more difficult to catch than men, because they are less open to suspicion.

In larger cities it now is the common practice for shrewd dealers in illicit whiskey to employ women to deliver whiskey ordered by customers. These women never excite the slightest suspicion. They are dressed in fashion's latest mode. They affect varied disguises. They usually appear daily differently costumed. Their costume bills are paid for by the bootleg kings. They borrow a neighbor's children to ride with them on their delivery trips.

WOMEN ARE CUNNING.

The cunning of women bootleggers was illustrated to Commissioner Haynes in the case of a prominent Washington woman. She occupied a luxurious suite of rooms at Washington's most fashionable hotel. Downtown she leased another elegantly furnished house. In the latter house she stored the "wet goods" sold jointly by herself and a "bootleg" confederate. Until a few days ago, when she fell under suspicion, she had mingled for years with Washington's elite in society and officialdom. She had the "entree" to the most exclusive circles. She is out on a nominal bond and if she is ever tried stands but small chance of being convicted, officials say.

Her appointment was made by the board of directors.

"The failing of men in business is that they think it is a cold-blooded proposition and the first thing they know they are in a rut," Mrs. Alden said.

"Of course I have only been active in business for four years, but it has been my experience that women are less likely to become slaves to routine," she said. "We have more ideas. That's why I believe we make better executives."

FRANCE CAN CALL 3,000,000 ARMY

By FRANK E. MASON,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

PARIS, April 25.—France can put in the field an army of 3,000,000 trained combatant troops despite the reduction of the time of service to one year, declares General Taubert, Senator of the Department of Bas Rhin, in writing an editorial for the Petit Parisien.

Officer circles have been making a strong stand to prevent the reduction of the term of military service to one year, and have put up a strong campaign to influence the passage of a law which will call for eighteen months' conscriptive service with the colors.

"Service of one year will not only create in the world an atmosphere of confidence in France, but also will recuperate our financial situation and will free our arms for the economic fight, which will keep us actually strong," writes the general.

"Between the ages of twenty and thirty-five we have fifteen classes of about 200,000 men each, which would enable us to dispose of approximately 3,000,000 combatants on mobilization, who could be assigned to active and reserve units. This would give about 120 brigades, forty divisions, and twenty army corps. The nucleus from thirty-five to forty-five years of age could be used for the reserves and for the service of the rear."

41,000 ITALIAN PEASANTS JOIN ORGANIZATION

By CLARA WOLD,
International News Service Special Correspondent.

ROME, April 25.—From one end of Italy to the other there runs a legend that if you treat the peasants unfairly the women of the land will rise up and fight you. They will take what weapons they have, whether they be pitchforks or mere feminine determination, even as women have done through all the ages.

"And that," said the workers, "is what Argentina Altobelli has done."

Argentina Altobelli is known to Italy and to the rest of the world as "the mother of the organized peasant movement." There are many fables about her in the cities of Italy, because she almost always is working with the peasants in the country and so nearly as impossible to see as the King and Queen.

"I found Altobelli in Rome, where she had come as secretary of the Agricultural Workers of Italy to attend a conference. She laughed when I called her 'mother' of the peasant movement."

"If I am the mother I began having my family very young," she said in her first interview. "For I was just sixteen years old when I made my first speech to the peasants. That was in Pruma."

"I decided that women were truly miserable, but then I found men were, too. The conditions of the peasant people were almost unbelievable. And I began propaganda at once among the peasants who were working all the hours they were awake and could stand on their feet. In those days the peasants were little better than slaves and not much better paid. Women who worked hard all day long earned less than a live a day."

"That was in 1885, and it was five years before we were able to organize any peasants. We started with societies to help the sick and starving; that is, the most wretched ones. Then we formed a syndicate organization in Bologna. In seven years we had organized 41,000 peasants, one-third of whom were women."

Toy Making Cures Shell-Shock Victims

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Shell-shocked war veterans can be cured by putting them to work making toys.

So declared Edward C. McCandish, a war veteran himself and well known as a portrait painter and illustrator of children's books, who has formed such a class at the St. Elizabeth's Hospital here.

This method of curing afflicted veterans, the expounder of the theory avers, tends to develop the initiative of the patient, usually lacking.

"The patient," McCandish explains, "is 'exposed' to the influence of the busy shop atmosphere, the bright, even gaudy, colors used in painting the toys, and is gradually encouraged to take hold of the work with as little obvious direction as possible."

HORDES OF RUSS REFUGEES SWARM DOWN ON BERLIN

Newspapers Declare Capital Is Becoming Muscovite Colony.

BERLIN, April 25.—Hordes of Russian refugees are flocking here on every train. The arrivals have settled themselves in a section of the city which they occupy almost to the exclusion of other nationalities, and have opened their own restaurants, clubs, saloons and theaters. Some of the Russians are wealthy, but most of them are penniless.

The police have found them a problem as they insist upon their own customs, and have little commerce with the Germans. The greatest difficulty is found in counting the immigrants to observe the 1 o'clock closing regulations. They follow the Russian custom of beginning dinner after midnight and continuing their eating and drinking until daylight.

The police have found them a problem as they insist upon their own customs, and have little commerce with the Germans. The greatest difficulty is found in counting the immigrants to observe the 1 o'clock closing regulations. They follow the Russian custom of beginning dinner after midnight and continuing their eating and drinking until daylight.

A prince and his wife, a baron, and another of their countrymen constitute the orchestra in one small eating place. They were made bankrupt by the revolution and must work or starve.

Profiteers who made fortunes out of the Russian revolution frequent the cafes in this quarter, where they have become conspicuous figures in the night life because of their lavish expenditures.

The German newspapers complain that the great influx of eastward-bound refugees is a "German character." One paper asserts Germany's capital city has become "a foreign colony, as surely as it would have become if our enemies had marched in and taken it."

Government quarters, which have shown little concern for the financial status of the refugees, have suddenly become intensely interested in the new arrivals, particularly an epidemic of typhus and cholera. German Red Cross physicians have warned the government that unless closer border control can be maintained an epidemic in the spring is certain.

The German Red Cross has also notified the government that there is danger of the Russians carrying the plague to America unless greater precautions are taken, for scores are seeking admission to the United States.

BRIEF LIBERTY IS ASKED FOR BAND

SAN RAFAEL, April 25.—A proposal will be placed before the state prison board when it meets again next month at San Quentin to authorize the participation of the San Quentin military band in the Memorial day dedication services here on May 30.

At this time will be dedicated Marin county's memorial to her soldier dead. It consists of a life-size figure of an American doughboy ready to go "over the top." The figure is made of bronze while the base of solid granite is the gift of the state prison board.

Special music for the dedication ceremony has been composed by Professor D. G. Gallur, famous leader of the San Quentin military band, and it is for this reason that a request for permission to bring the band to San Rafael is to be made. The proposal has the endorsement of several committees in charge of arrangements for the celebration on that day.

From the steps of the San Rafael courthouse on that day will be played for the first time the popular new march, "Ready to Go," by Professor Damasus G. Gallur, which is dedicated to the world war heroes of California.

Beware Flapper, Lucy Gaston Is On Your Trail

CHICAGO, April 27 (United Press).—Lucy Page Gaston, bitter enemy of Lady Nicotine and scorn of all who commune with the enticing goddess, will launch a nation-wide campaign here next Sunday to stem the tide of smoking among women.

A million dollars, Miss Gaston announced, has been thrown in to the fight for what she termed "the greatest moral reformation this country has ever seen."

Nationally known financiers have been aligned in support of the ascetic woman reformer, she said the United Press, and the fight against the use of cigarettes—especially by girls—will be continued four years.

Miss Gaston, whose anti-cigarette activities have attracted nationwide attention, will hold forth in Washington, from where she will direct the campaign.

"Our fight," she said, "will be carried into the smokiest places. We plan to concentrate especially upon the happenings in smoking among flappers, which has increased to astounding dimensions, is cause for genuine alarm, as it strikes directly at the fountain of life.

"Honor, brevity and cigarettes," she continued, "are twin evils, neither of which is likely to be exterminated while the other remains with us."

"Carrie Nation" tactics," she said, "will be employed by the crusaders when necessary. Cigarettes will be visited by the campaigners in an effort to deliver their message 'where it is most needed.'"

'MUD TAX' COSTS U. S. $504,000,000 YEARLY, REPORT

Conclude Raps Useless Expenditures.

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 25.—Taxpayers of the United States have made up their minds to eliminate the "mud tax," which is estimated to be costing the citizens $504,000,000 annually. T. L. Kirkpatrick of North Carolina, declared in an address here today before the tenth annual convention of the United States Good Roads association.

"We have had enough talk about the fundamental principles of government. What we need in this hour is a practical application of the fundamental principles of government to the needs of the country. The way to do things is to do them. The possibility lies in the book of fools."

He declared that the question of building modern highways has become the biggest question financially and economically in the minds of the American people today.

"The time has come when the American farmer is demanding and has a right to demand, the same community advantages that the urbanites have," Kirkpatrick added.

The world is just awaking to the fact that the cost of modern transportation facilities in lowering the cost of distribution. Modern highways lead upward to high possibilities of national life. Bad highways form the other road downward to ruin."

ARGENTINA TAKES SWIMMING LEAD

BUENOS AIRES (By Mail to the United Press).—Argentina is setting new world swimming records for distance and endurance in the water, and the past month has witnessed performance of remarkable feats in the Rio de la Plata.

Far surpassing the achievement of Tiraboschi, who established a precedent by crossing the 30 mile width of the stream in 1920, is that of an Argentine amateur swimmer, Senior Romeo Maciel, present holder of the world's record. The latter attained this distinction by crossing from Colonia to Punta Lara, a distance of 50 kilometers and 500 meters in 24 hours 32 minutes and 40 seconds. Lieutenant Juan Luis Garandini, of the Argentine army, is shortly to attempt to outdo this.

Maciel's crossing of the river made on March 17. The swimmer, voracious appetite, nearly cost him his laurels, for food administered to him while he was in the water was consumed in such quantities that cramps resulted. Eighteen hours after entering the water, he showed the stuff he is made of by treading water and mimicking the playing of a guitar while in a clear loud voice he sang a song in the Guarany Indian tongue.

Maciel made his previous swim, Lillian G. Harrison, aged 17, had captained what was then thought to be the climax of this year's aquatic season by remaining ten hours and one minute in the Rio de la Plata while she made the passage from San Isidro, a suburb on the south bank to the New Basin, in the port of Buenos Aires, triumphing over all existing records by slightly over three hours. Miss Harrison used the broadest stroke the entire distance, keeping an even rate of 27 to the minute.

Life in Russ Famine Area One "Round of Misery"

By WILLIAM C. GARNER, Written for Universal Service.

DOWZOVIAZ, Soviet Russia (By Mail).—What is the daily life of a family in the famine area in Russia? One answer was found in this village last night. The village is 1000 miles east of Moscow and forty miles south of Ufa, the last of the larger cities in European Russia on the line of the Trans-Siberian Railroad.

In the years before the war the whole of the Ufa province exported grain. In 1921 the maximum yield per unit of land was 8 per cent of normal—not nearly enough for the seed for 1922 even, if not a single grain was eaten.

At 9 o'clock at night, accompanied by an interpreter, I entered a house, chosen haphazard. There were many exactly like it in the village. It was made of logs and had one outer room and one inner room in which the family lived. The outer room is not inhabited. It serves merely as a store chamber to keep the below-zero winds from whistling through the whole house when a person enters or leaves.

BABES ALREADY GONE.

Inside was a man, 26 years old, his wife, about his own age, and his mother, 70 years old. On February 9, the older child of the couple, a boy, aged 4, died of intestinal illness which came from bad food. Five days before that the younger child, baby girl, five months old, died of hunger causes.

In the morning the family arose—a man, a woman and a child—built in one corner of the room and covered with a goatskin, and the woman from a wooden rack on the other side of the room. Each had slept in the clothing he wore the day before. The first room was the building of a fire in the small sheet iron stove. Wood is free. It can be had for the hauling from nearby timber. The next thing to do is to sit and sip tea and eat. At noon the man went out, walked four miles (about three and one-half miles) to the house of his brother. There he begged a handful of lebedia. Lebedia is a kind of wild grass that has a head something like the head of the American ironweed.

TORTURE IS MUCIL. The peasants gathered in as much of it as possible when their crops failed. When first eaten it causes a severe stomach dilation that is sometimes fatal, but more frequently vanishes after several days. The second eating is less severe and gradually the peasants become accustomed to it so that they can eat without suffering the severe pain. The weakening and disease-producing effects, however, are continuous and the death toll from intestinal disorders mounts steadily.

The man returned at nightfall. At 9 o'clock he was about to have his first food of the day. After the meal there would be nothing to do but go to bed and sleep, to get up the next day to make tea, to beg or to sit still without food.

When asked if there was any day on which he had gone entirely without food he said "yes" that at times in the weeks immediately past he had gone for as many as five days in succession without anything to eat and nothing to drink but the dilution of tea and shrub.

HAS FOUR CHANCES. This man's opportunities, like those of all other peasants, fall into four classifications—by day, by night, by trade, by living miserably to a degree beyond belief in any other conditions, he may get through. Second, he may go the way of his children, the victim of some disease resulting from starvation or from typhus, dysentery or cholera. Third, he may be coming home from a wood gathering expedition some night and be caught in a breeze just a little colder or briskeer than usual. It will cut through his rags. He will stumble and fall in the snow. It will be warm and restful after his laborious struggle with the little sleigh on which he hauls his wood. He will yield and doze. In twenty minutes the below zero temperature will have frozen him to death. His wife and mother will then sit at home and starve or will follow him because of cold or disease. His fourth chance is help from the outside.

The American Relief Administration is now feeding 200 children in this village. The number will be slightly increased just as quickly as food now on the ocean and in the port cities and on the railroad trains can be delivered. American gift corn for feeding adults is now in distribution. The task is slow. The railroads are hopelessly untried for the tremendous load the distribution puts upon them. The element of time is more serious every day, but the stuff is moving. American corn from Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois and others of the great corn states is getting out to the provinces and soon, for the first time in their lives Russian peasants will be indulging in corn bread. With the food corn will come the seed corn and next summer fields that were once yellow with wheat, barley and rye, will be green with American corn.

Tchitcherin and Church Head Confer

ROME, April 25.—(By International News Service).—The probable basis of increased cordiality between the Vatican and the Russian soviet government was worked out last Sunday in a conversation between the archbishop of Genoa and M. Tchitcherin, it was learned today.

The archbishop asked regarding the condition of religion in Russia. Tchitcherin affirmed that the soviets are following a policy of political and religious liberty and that they intended adopting legislation analogous to that of the United States.

It is understood that the archbishop conversed with M. Tchitcherin at the direction of Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state.

YOSEMITE DEATH MYSTERY UP TO U. C. SCIENTISTS

Remains of Girl, Discovered in Park, Sent to Berkeley for Investigation.

YOSEMITE, April 25.—(By International News Service).—Science was called upon today to assist in solving the mystery created by the finding of a steel box containing the partially cremated remains of what doctors have pronounced to have been a young woman, in the shadow of Yosemite Falls.

Chief Ranger Townsley, who is in charge of the investigation, left today for Berkeley, where University of California chemists will be asked to make a chemical analysis to determine whether the bones were actually burned or were reduced to dust by the application of a strong acid.

Blood-stained granite chips were taken along also to be examined by the university geologists to determine where they came from.

FINGERPRINTS ON BOX. Fingerprints upon the black enameled box will also be photographed as a valuable clue.

A badly burned tin steel blade found near the place where the box was buried formed the only other clue.

The theory advanced by some that the ashes were brought to Yosemite for sentimental reasons is largely discounted by the geographically unimportant spot selected for their partial burial. The scant covering of earth indicates that the act of burial may have been interrupted.

CREMATION SITE SOUGHT.

While Chief Ranger Townsley sought the aid of science park rangers made every effort to find, if possible, the cremation site within the park. An unmistakable odor of burnt wood which greeted the nostrils of the rangers who opened the steel box pointed to a makeshift cremation.

"I think the person was a young girl," declared Dr. Frederick L. Stein of the Yosemite medical service, "considering the delicately shaped bones and the small teeth. The teeth were in remarkably good condition and this further strengthened my belief that the person had been a young woman as this type of dentistry is not found in older persons."

RUSS READY TO GIVE ENTRY TO U. S. INDUSTRY

Soviets Will Cut 'Red Tape' for Bonafide American Companies.

MOSCOW, April 25.—Soviet Russia is ready to waive numerous technicalities and make it extremely easy for representatives of big American firms to reach Moscow if they have serious intentions and actual financial backing, but is more or less "fed up" with American promoters, George Chicherin, Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, told the Associated Press correspondent in an interview.

When the correspondent told Chicherin that many American business men desiring to reach Russia lost much valuable time because of the red tape, the commissar said Russia had to be careful whom she let in, but was not trying to thwart those with legitimate business.

"We have had painful experiences with persons representing themselves as having big backing and in reality having none," he added, "so we have to investigate the applications for admittance."

IMMENSE THROG LURED TO SHRINE MARDI GRAS FETE

Streets Lined For Parade Spectacle; 10,000 Flock to Auditorium.

Immense crowds lined the downtown streets of Oakland and a colorful attendance of 10,000 people crowded the magnificently decorated auditorium when the Oakland Shriners opened their Mardi Gras and Circus last night.

The festivities were inaugurated with a monster street parade, in which Shriners and affiliated societies from the Eastbay cities and San Francisco participated. The parade formed at Eleventh and Harrison streets and thence took its line of march past Aahmes Temple to Washington, from Washington to Tenth, and thence to Broadway and Thirteenth and thence to the auditorium.

TWO FEATURE FLOATS.
Two splendid floats, illuminated by Bengal lights, the first of which were artistically led by Alchemists, disguised as fantastic "devils," formed the center pieces of the parade.

One float contained Otto H. Fischer, Chief Rabbi of Aahmes Temple, acting in the place of illustrious Potentate Thomas W. Norris, who is out of town, and the divan and past officers of Aahmes Temple.

The other float accommodated Ira W. Colburn, illustrious Potentate of Islam Temple, San Francisco, and the Divan of that Temple, the members and band of which had come to Oakland to assist at the festivities. Each float was preceded respectively by the Aahmes bands and patrol, and by the Islam band and patrol. Then marched the different Eastbay units of the Scouts with their bands and drill corps, each unit preceded by the national flag and the colors of the orders.

HEADED BY POLICE.
The parade was led by a platoon of police under Traffic Sergeant Charles Hemphill. Commissioner Frank C. Colburn, Chief of Police James T. Drew and Acting Mayor A. E. Carter also participated. The parade was concluded by the band and patrol of the Order of the Moose, the Junior Masonic order. The parade marched in excellent order and with military precision from its point of assembly to its objective, the auditorium, where its arrival was hailed with cheers and applause by the huge gathering.

Unlike previous entertainments at the auditorium, the Shriners' Mardi Gras provides something new for every minute. A vaudeville performance took place on the stage, while numerous features were introduced on the floor of the arena. After 10:30 the arena was thrown open to dancers. Rosebrook's band furnishing the music.

NOTED ACTS ON BILL.
The Jossana, led by Dick José, the famous singer, opened the entertainment last evening. This act was followed by Natalie Carossia and a ballet of wonderful dancers; Bulger's complete trained animal show furnished many laughs with the introduction of a clown and a comedy mule; Rose Waterman drew big applause by a series of impressionistic dances. Other acts on the program include The Corbills, European Novelty Artists; Rue Enos, the Fox Contortionists; Laurence Gray, a magician, and Cortill, an acrobat.

A feature of the evening was the exhibit offered in the Architects' Exhibitors' and Builders' Show. Demonstrations of everything from biscuit powder to real Arabian curial's were offered by the various exhibitors. A fortune telling camp is one of the big attractions from the stage.

MATINEES ARRANGED.
On Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday matinee performances will be given.

Though a number of architects', builders' and home furnishings' exhibits were in place last night, it was announced that the part of the entertainment will formally open today. Wednesday has been set aside as Women's Day. At 9 o'clock the queen contest will close and at 11:30 the winners will be announced from the stage.

Thursday has been set aside for fraternal and civic orders. Friday will be the Mardi Gras ball, starting with the Mardi Gras parade at 7 o'clock, coronation of the queen pageant at 8 o'clock and the queen ball at 10, grand march led by the queen at 11 o'clock.

Friday evening the public is invited to attend in costume. Those appearing in costume will be admitted free of charge and dancing will continue until 1 o'clock.

BABY PARADE SATURDAY.

On Saturday at 2 o'clock there will be a baby parade to the Auditorium. At 4 o'clock the award of prizes will take place.

The following explanation of the reasons prompting the Mardi Gras at this time is included on the title page of the program:

In the Shrine convention to be held in San Francisco in June

Oakland is given the greatest opportunity for advertising since the great Panama-Pacific Exposition.

The value of the chance to show visitors personally what we have on the East side of the bay cannot be reckoned in money.

It is for the purpose of raising funds to show these visitors Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and the contiguous great Eastbay communities that the Shrine Mardi Gras is being held. A determined effort is being made to bring every visitor to Oakland at least once.

SPECIAL OAKLAND DAY.

Wednesday, June 14, has been set aside by the convention authorities as Oakland Day. It is announced that $50,000 will be our guests on that occasion.

All of the money raised through the Mardi Gras ball will be spent in Oakland to show the visitors exactly what Oakland has to offer not only from a residential standpoint, but from an industrial standpoint.

When the caliber of the visitors is considered in connection with the numbers in which they are coming, you will understand that every dollar raised by the Oakland Shrine will bring back enormous dividends. Chamber of Commerce statistics have proven that the best way to advertise Oakland is to show Oakland.

You are helping Oakland and the great Eastbay communities when you patronize the Mardi Gras, and you get your money's worth, besides.

Burglar's Confession Read; Held to Answer

In a confession signed by Carl Martin today he says that he broke into the house of Mrs. Nellie V. Greer, 237 Forty-third street because he was hungry and unable to find work. The confession was read today before Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell during Martin's preliminary examination.

Martin admits that he broke into her apartment and stole jewelry, clothing and currency. He was arrested as he was getting on a ferry boat by Policeman C. F. T. Jorgensen. At the time he had the loot in a suitcase.

He was held to answer to the charge in the Superior Court by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell. His bail was set at $300.

'Fisherman Pete,' Noted Waterfront Character, Passes

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—"Pete the fisherman," one of the waterfront's best known characters, died today, alone but not forsaken.

No one knows Pete's real name. For 62 years he had been a character, quaint, eccentric and unique on a harbor front. Pete was best known to the police.

A man in uniform was always his friend. He was as much at home in the harbor police station office as on the yaws that fringe Fisherman's wharf. He thought nothing of money; all he wanted was enough to eat and a place to sleep. That was about all he had.

Pete's money of recent years was made in selling bait, and when he died today his only possessions were in line with his chosen profession.

WIFE MAY KEEP $40 WAGE; SHE GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Charlotte I. MacKenzie is now free to spend the $40 a month that she earns for her efforts in a real estate office.

The freedom was granted by Superior Judge T. W. Harris yesterday when Mrs. MacKenzie testified that she has been forced to give part of her earnings to her husband for pin money.

The granting of the interlocutory decree is the culmination of an elopement while both were students at the University of California and a porch climbing episode in which Jack Fisher MacKenzie figured prominently.

The couple eloped and married in 1921. MacKenzie, the son of a wealthy Fresno rancher, was promptly notified that his $85 a month remittance would be discontinued. Mrs. MacKenzie went to work and the husband remained at college.

Later, according to her testimony, MacKenzie started to mistreat her and she told of two episodes wherein he struck her in the face. The bride then returned to the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Irwin, at 210 Pacific avenue, Alameda.

MacKenzie followed later and was arrested for disturbing the peace. The divorce decree was granted on the ground of cruelty.

WARSHIP HUNTS BANDITS. BUENOS AYRES.—The Argentine government has sent a warship and additional troops to punish the bandits who attacked British ranchers in the La Plata district of Southern Argentina.

FORMER HEAD OF SCIENTISTS DIES STILLS RAIDED ON EIGHTH AVENUE

Funeral services for Francis J. Fluno, one time head of the Christian Science mother church in Boston, personal friend of Mary Baker Eddy, founder, and one of the foremost practitioners in the West, who died yesterday in San Francisco, will be held in Oakland. The date has not yet been named. The body will be cremated.

Fluno was born in Oswego county, New York. Later he moved with his parents to Chicago. He is survived by his widow, a son, Vincent, of Alameda, and three daughters, Mrs. G. S. Haly of Oakland, Mrs. H. Olstad of Honolulu, and Mrs. Arthur Brown of Oakland. A brother, Isaac, resides in Appleton, Wis., and a nephew, Byron, in Los Angeles.

On the lecture platform Fluno has visited practically every large city in the world, being one of the leaders in the faith since the death of its founder. He founded the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Oakland in 1890, shortly after coming to California, and served successively as first reader and president.

Fluno was a member of one of the first classes organized by Mrs. Eddy. He met the founder several years after his graduation from the Illinois Medical School, while practicing medicine.

At the head of the mother church after the death of Mrs. Eddy, he was instrumental in outlining many of the policies of the faith which have been in practice since his incumbency. In recent years Fluno had been unofficial head of the church in the West. He resided in Alameda and practitioners came to him from all parts of the world for instruction and advice.

At the time of his death he was 78 years old.

C. of C. to Discuss Council for Safety

To discuss preliminary steps to organize an "Eastbay Safety Council," Joseph H. King, president of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, has issued invitations to a number of Eastbay leaders for luncheon to be held at the Hotel Oakland Friday.

Through this council it is expected that plans may be executed which will result in a material reduction in the number of accidents in Oakland and vicinity.

Two stills were seized when the dry squad, assisted by federal enforcement officers, raided two homes on Eighth avenue, in the east Lake Merritt residential district.

The home of David Rothman, at 2032 Eighth avenue, was the first place to be raided. The officers seized a five-gallon still and five ounces of Jackass brandy. Rothman was charged with violating the dry law.

The second place to be raided was the home of Max Nuremberg, at 2340 Eighth avenue, which the police say was formerly owned by F. M. Smith. At one time a relative of Smith resided in the house, according to the police.

A thirty-five gallon still, 640 gallons of mash and 250 gallons of corn whiskey were seized in the raid. Both Rothman and Nuremberg were charged with violating the national prohibition act.

Search warrants were secured from United States Commissioner Albert M. Hardie after members of the dry squad had made a purchase of liquor from both of the men. Joe Cabral of 1002 Washington street and Charles Horning of 803 Broadway, both owners of soft drink places, were arrested on the same charge by federal officers.

Parked Auto Is Partly Burned By Freak Blaze

FIRE partially destroyed the touring car of Fred C. Brown, 530 Sixteenth street, at Seventeenth and Jefferson street this morning. A short circuit formed in the wiring under the hood, permitted sparks to jump a gap directly over the carburetor, igniting the gas and exploding the carburetor itself. It was not until after several attempts to finally extinguish the fire had been made, that the cause of the recurrence of the fire was discovered and the battery connected.

The owner was not aware of his loss until a half hour later when he appeared to drive the machine away.

U. S. COULD HAVE PREVENTED WAR, PERSHING AVERS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The United States "with adequate military preparation and under strong leadership" could have prevented the occurrence of the world war, General Pershing declared today in testifying before the Senate military committee in behalf of the war department's plea for an increase in the military establishment over that proposed by the House.

Failure to recognize the existence of "envy, jealousy and hatred" among nations as among individuals, he said, has invariably sent the United States unprepared into a great crisis and caused "unnecessary loss of life and left us staggering under financial burdens."

The 115,000 enlisted strength army bill passed by the House provides a military structure "below the safe minimum requirements" of the nation, Secretary Weeks told the Senate appropriations committee today in urging that appropriations for the next fiscal year permit a force of 13,000 officers and 150,000 men to be maintained in the regular army. Should the House proposals prevail, he added, not only would the regulars suffer, but overseas garrisons would be "inadequate" and the development of "citizen components of our national defense system" would be seriously checked.

"I am aware of no issue that at the present time threatens to involve us in international complications," Mr. Weeks said. "There is no evidence of foreign designs against us. We must, however, recognize that throughout the greater part of the world a condition of instability prevails which renders the permanence of world peace uncertain."

As to the gas warfare work of the army, Weeks said, that while ultimate abolishment of such warfare might come by international agreement, "it would be fatal for us to give up the series of experiments and investigations which were conducted during the war and have been carried on since," until that moment had arrived. As to aviation, he expressed the opinion that the provision for its development in the army should be larger than the department was now asking, adding:

"I do not hesitate to predict that in any future war importance will be greatly increased."

Reversing the decision of the Superior Court in Alameda county, the State Supreme Court today held that the town of Antioch had no grounds for action against the Willms Irrigation district and the 27 other defendants named in the case.

The decision held that there is no pollution of a stream in the legal meaning when the lowering of waters allows not water to reach a higher stream level, and also holds that an appropriator of water has no guarantee against other appropriators who may cause the level to drop to the point to invite the encroachment of salt water.

In brief, the suit means that Antioch's efforts to stop up-river rice growers from using a large amount of water from the San Joaquin river for irrigation, have failed. In the action Antioch was joined by a number of farmers from the Delta who appeared as intervenors. Millions of dollars in wealth were lined on either side.

"Our conclusion is that an appropriator of water from one of these streams at a point near its outlet to the sea, by such appropriation does not acquire the right to insist that subsequent appropriators above shall leave enough water flowing in the stream to hold the salt water of the incoming tide below this point of diversion."

The court held, was not material. Riparian rights are not political but private. They extend only to the use of water on land bordering the stream.

The court called attention to the voluminous record in the case, pointing to the 3150 pages of typewritten manuscript. It had been contended by Antioch that users of water had diverted so much, at points from ten to twenty miles above the city, that the level was lowered and salt water came up-stream. The town held that this salt water constituted pollution, just as much as if the salt had been poured in the water.

The case was appealed on January 7 of this year and then appealed to the Supreme Court, which, in this decision, is standing by the Court of Appeals.

First Play Presented In Open-Air Theater

"Hearts to Mend," the first play to be given in the new open-air Brookdale Garden theater in East Oakland, was presented last night by the Jester Workshop players of the Fremont high school under the direction of Miss Doris McIntyre.

The new theater is modeled after the Bohemian Grove theater and in direct reverse to the Greek theater. The Brookdale Garden amphitheater, the audience is on the flat land and the players on the hillside.

Prior to the start of the play last night, Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter delivered an address and music was provided by a fifty-piece orchestra. The play met with the approval of the crowd present for the opening. The theater is sponsored by the Leona Heights Club.

Men Arrested for Robbery Identified

Jess Vettes, Ralph Jones, colored, and C. Lyde McNett, arrested here Sunday, were identified today, police say, as three of the five men who Saturday night held up and robbed ten Chinese at a potato ranch in Contra Costa county of $600. The men were taken into custody by Patrolman E. F. Murphy at a rooming house at Seventh and Pine streets. They were traced by the names of several revolvers in their possession, which were stolen from the ranch. Detectives Thomas Gallagher and Thomas Wood today identified the pistols and officials from Contra Costa county by the owners of the ranch identified the men. All have records, police say, and Vettes was sentenced to death in Salem, Ore., for murder and later pardoned.

New Device Removes Agony of Dentistry

By International News Service. LONDON, April 25.—Intending visitors to the dentist in the near future will have no fear of that person if the government's new invention of a French scientist, is approved by the dental profession. ENGAGEMENT IS OF GREAT INTEREST

"Oh, girls! Did you see Emily's fiancée? She and Dick are engaged to be married. Did you know it? That surely was a surprise to me. They are going to be married the first of June, too. We must give her a shower or plan some sort of engagement party for her."

"I should say so! Emily is a peach and we should all get her some lovely things. My goodness! I must begin to save my pennies. I find so many things to spend money for that I never seem to get enough together to buy new clothes. I need a lot, too."

"Well, of course, clothes do seem to cost a lot these days. But I think I have a good idea to solve the eternal clothes worry. I get mine on credit, and put aside a certain amount for them every month, and then I won't spend it for anything else. I buy at Chem's, at 615 13th street, and can make such satisfactory arrangements for paying a small amount down and convenient monthly payments."

Chem's store for men is at 628 13th street.

Making the Job More Difficult

In Missouri there used to be a judge who had one abiding fear. He was desperately afraid of lightning. The first suggestion of a gathering thunderstorm changed him from a dignified and competent citizen into a quivering refugee. One jagged bolt from the clouds, one rolling reverberation, and he would flee into hiding.

On a certain summer evening he was entertaining guests at dinner. Suddenly the skies became overcast and there was a rumble of distant thunder. The host laid down his knife and fork and shoved his chair back from the table. There came a flash of lightning and a louder crash. The judge was on his way. He tore out of the dining-room, dashed through the hall, plunged headlong into a coat closet under a flight of stairs and buried his head in the folds of a raincoat.

His mortified wife excused herself from the company and trailed him to his hiding place. She rapped upon the door of the closet.

"Who is it?" sounded a quivering muffled voice, "and what do you want?"

"Judge Robinson," said the humiliated lady, "I'm ashamed of you—you, a Christian and a grown man and a judge on the bench behaving like this! Don't you know that if the good Lord wants to kill you with a bolt of lightning he can find you, no matter where you hide?"

"That may be, Madam," he answered, "but, by Gum, I'll put Him to as much trouble as possible!"

SOUP OF THE BEAN—BEAN SOUP.

I smite a mean, malefic lyre
To chaunt in syllables of fire
That joy which so jocosely sluices
To titillate my gastric juices;
That soft libation which imbues
My tonsils with angelic dew—
May rare afflatus on me swoop,
For I would sing today of Soup,
Soup of the Bean—Bean Soup!

Oh, I would sing the soothing swish
Of this exhilarating dish,
How gastronomic regions bless
Its coy, yet coruscant caress,
And crave each morning, noon and night
Its swooning, esculent delight.....
Ah, who could help but shout and whoop,
For such a brave and glorious Soup,
Soup of the Bean—Bean Soup.

I would apostrophize the Bean,
My favorite flower, what I mean,
For nothing can my innards suit
As does the essence of this fruit;
It makes me happy, makes me gay,
It drives my troubles all away,
And when its Jovian ichor tarries
Within my smallest capillaries
My Sub-Sub-conscious loops the loop,
So glad it is to get such Soup,
Soup of the Bean—Bean Soup.

OAKLAND SCHOOL OVERHEAD COSTS WILL BE SLASHED

Contracts For University School to Cost $500,000 Are Awarded.

The board of education last night accepted a report by Superintendent of Schools Hunter suggesting a lowering of school overhead expenses to 2.6 per cent in the next budget, awarded contracts for the $500,000 University high school, decided to sell or wreck the old Peralta school and received from Auditor John W. Edgemond an analysis of Oakland school costs, which showed that while high these costs compare well with any other California school department and are better than the average Oakland business house.

The report of Superintendent Hunter was in line with the "economy campaign." He cited that the overhead costs, meaning administration of the schools, has been 2.5 per cent and come down to 2 per cent in the present budget. He urged that the next budget appropriate 2.6 per cent for general control.

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE.

The communication was referred to the budget committee.

The board then decided to advertise the old Peralta school for sale or for wrecking, in part or as a whole, and accepted bids for the Garfield auditorium.

In awarding contracts for the University high school the board decided to notify the Santa Fe Improvement Club that this school cannot be built of wood to save money, as the actual economy is questionable.

The general contract for the University high school went to R. W. Littlefield at $324,900, which, with alterations and additions, comes to $328,800. This contract, with smaller ones for plumbing, heating and other items, would bring the total to $541,716, which is above the amount appropriated.

LITTLE FOR FURNISHINGS.

The original appropriation for the building, including $60,000 for furnishings, came to $500,000. If the $541,000 figure is final it leaves only $18,000 for furnishings.

"We'll fix that," promised Commissioner Bacon. "There will be some of these items of cost lopped off."

The analysis of the Oakland school department's costs, as submitted by Auditor John W. Edgemond, went into every element of the situation. In his summary he observed that while there has been a big increase in costs it is not out of proportion to school growth and the increased cost of living.

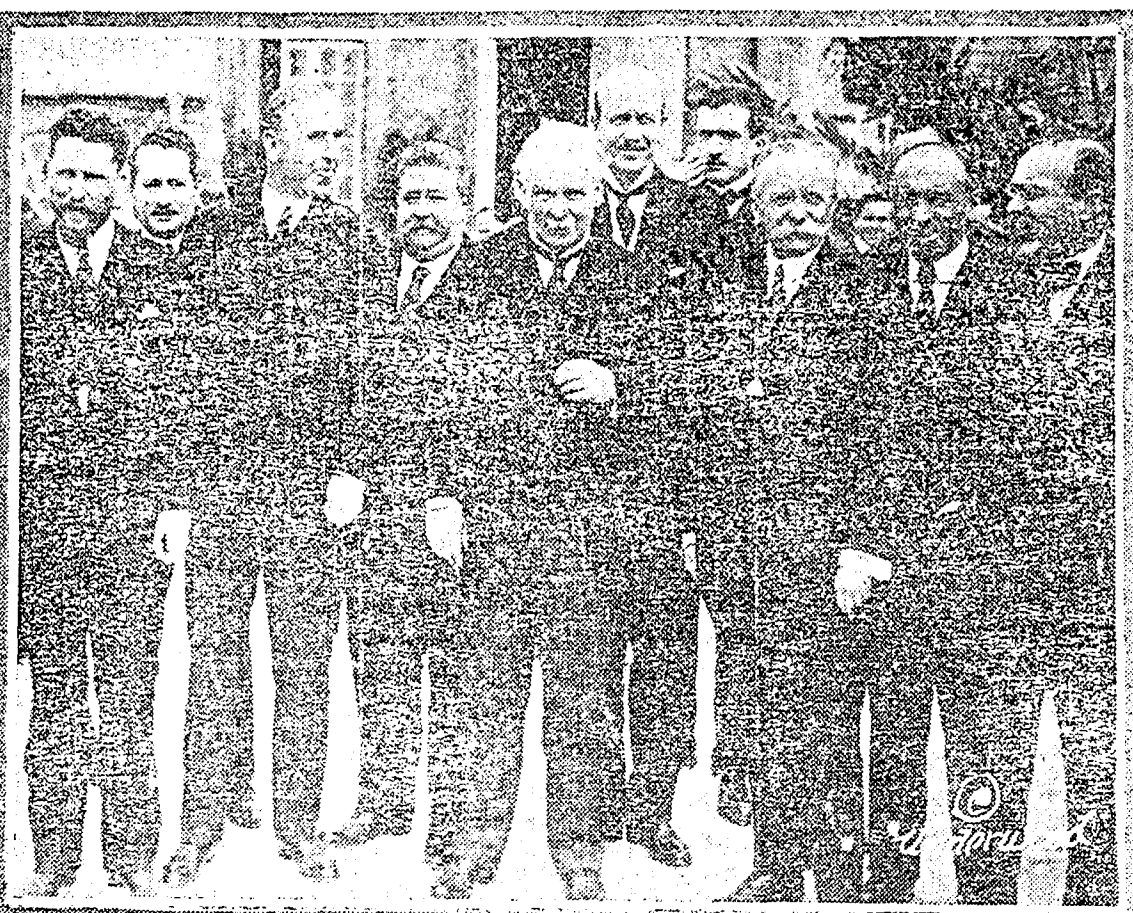

This information, warns Edgemond, "seems to make necessary a program of very rigid economy, but nothing can justify any step which will injure the schools."

EDGEMOND'S FINDINGS.

Edgemond's findings about the school department were set under eleven items, as follows:

1. The increase of school costs

Group of the allied delegation with Premier Lloyd George at the Palais Reale after a preliminary conference at Genoa. for a five-year period, 1916-1921, has been 126.8 per cent.

2. The increase of cost of commodities during this same period, 1916-1921, has been 111.5 per cent.

3. The increase in average daily attendance in the schools during the same period was 33.8 per cent.

4. The sum of the per cent of increase of the cost of living and the per cent of increase of the average daily attendance for five years was 145.3 per cent.

5. The day high school enrollment—the most expensive division of the school system—increased from $207 in 1916-17 to $491 in 1921-22, or 97 per cent.

6. More than 6000 vocational and junior high school students are now in school that were previously not provided for and out of school.

7. There are many types of service demanded by popular pressure or compelled by legislation now in the schools that did not exist in 1916-17 or which had only just begun—such as Smith-Hughes vocational classes, physical education, free high school textbooks, the part-time school and the like.

8. The percentage of overhead cost and costs of auxiliary agencies are approximately the average for the cities of the United States and considerably less than the typical Oakland business establishment.

9. In per capita tax actually paid (based on population) Alameda county ranks 47 from the highest among 56 counties.

10. In per capita cost of education (based on population) Oakland ranks sixth among 23 western cities, being exceeded by four of the chief cities of California.

11. In increase of per capita cost (based on population) over a six-year period, 1914-15 to 1920, Oakland ranks fourth among the 17 cities of 150,000 to 300,000 population reporting to the United States census bureau.

These facts show that the cost of education in Oakland has greatly increased during the past five years, but not out of proportion to the increase of cost of living and school growth. Nor has it increased out of proportion to the increases in school costs in other cities where similar service has been rendered the children of the city.

Taxi Driver Freed

Of Holdup Charge

Leo J. Barron, taxi driver, backed down in Superior Judge Church's court today when a verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury which heard his second trial on a charge of conspiring to aid in a holdup.

Barron was accused of having knowingly aided Gerald Lister and Thomas Whalen in the robbery of a soft drink saloon at 4091 San Pablo avenue, belonging to Joe Adams. It was charged that he had received a share of the "loot" in return for driving them to the saloon and then hurrying them away in his taxi.

Both Lister and Whalen, who have been convicted of robbery in connection with the affair, appeared as witnesses against Barron.

EARLY VERDICT

IS EXPECTED IN

Prosecution Opens Closing

Argument With Demand for Conviction.

Charging Mrs. Jesuita D'Agostini with having shot and killed Arnold Postel without justification, District Attorney Ezra Decoto today began the closing argument in the second murder trial of the woman. The case is expected to go to the jury early tomorrow.

The opening argument for the prosecution was made yesterday by Deputy Earl Warren, who was followed by Attorney Henry E. Skinner, chief counsel for the defense.

Mrs. D'Agostini, who expostulated frequently during the closing arguments in her first trial, maintained a calmer demeanor today and yesterday as she listened to the arguments made by counsel for both sides to her second jury.

Belief that a quick verdict will be returned once the jury retires to deliberate, was expressed today by the attorneys for both prosecution and defense. The first jury deadlocked six to six, after deliberating more than twenty-four hours.

Superior Judge George Samuels' courtroom crowded to its capacity during the final arguments in the case, which has attracted wide attention since Mrs. D'Agostini's arrest last August.

COLLIN CHILD'S

CUSTODY DENIED

After having decided that custody of six-year-old Rome D. Collin Jr. should go to neither Rome D. Collin, his father, who was divorced by the father's mother on the ground of cruelty, or his mother, Mrs. Arthur Hadsell, who is now married to her first husband, Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell today continued the contest over the child until next Friday, to determine whether to place him with relatives of the father or of the mother.

Kinsell today charged both parents with having taught the child to tell falsehoods to promote their own respective interests.

The court declared that whatever disposition may eventually be issued to prevent Mrs. Hadsell from effecting his adoption by other persons without the consent of the boy's father, and another court order will seek to restrain Collin from "further annoying Mrs. Hadsell."

"Any act of annoyance on the part of Collin, directed toward Mrs. Hadsell, will be construed by this court as an attempt to run her former wife and failed to comply with a court order to show cause why she should not relinquish his custody."

Collin last week kidnapped his son from a school playground at Rainier, Washington, after his former wife and failed to comply with a court order to show cause why she should not relinquish his custody.

Door Locks Changed;

Wife Asks Divorce

When a locksmith changed all the locks and keys on the doors of her home, at her husband's orders, Mrs. Irene Semans thought it time to seek a separation from Hugh D. Semans, owner of a local carpet cleaning company, she avers in her complaint for divorce filed with the County Clerk George Gross today. This, however, was not the only cruelty practiced upon her, she says—it was merely the last.

On other occasions, Mrs. Semans declares, her husband took her auto riding and drove a certain house, which he pointed out to her, telling her the woman who lived there was "some peach" and her rival in Semans' affections; he neglected to provide her with sufficient clothes, so she was compelled to borrow a dress with which to go out upon the streets; he accused her of being immoral and told her to paint her face and earn her living in the dance halls; he consistently gave her but $2 or $3 at a time for household expenses, although he has an income of more than $4000 a year.

Margaret Anglin Cancels Engagement in Berkeley

BERKELEY, April 25.—Margaret Anglin will not make her scheduled appearance in the Greek theater this summer.

The last word in the controversy between student officials of the English Club at the university and Professor Samuel J. Hume, director of the Greek theater, came today from the noted actress herself.

A letter received by President David P. Barrows of the university expresses the actress' regrets that she will be unable to present a Greek tragedy in the Berkeley amphitheater this summer as had been planned by the English Club.

IN HER LETTER TO DR. BARROWS, Miss Anglin explains her inability to come to Berkeley this summer because of delayed plans in leaving for Europe.

She writes: "I would like to think that my appearance suffers nothing more than postponement as we are going to spend some time in Greece and Crete in study through which I hope to be able to bring to the Greek theater in Berkeley, if the university again honors me, something better than I have offered in the past."

Receipt of Miss Anglin's letter follows the mailing by her San Francisco manager of a bundle of newspaper clippings relating the details of the controversy which raged some weeks ago between the English Club and Professor Hume. The clippings were sent to Miss Anglin by special request from her, a demand being made by the actress for all information concerning the campus discussion of her proposed visit. A personal explanation from Dr. Barrows of the situation in the Greek theater, returned to Berkeley to deny the students' statements, declaring that he had never been approached on the matter and that he would gladly welcome the famous actress should she decide to appear.

That Professor Hume blocked plans for the presentation of Miss Anglin in a Greek theater production of "Edipus, the King," and made preparations for a Greek tragedy of his own production was charged by Bart Crum, president of the English Club, and other student officers. Professor Hume, ill in Los Angeles at the time, returned to Berkeley to deny the students' statements, declaring that he had never been approached on the matter and that he would gladly welcome the famous actress should she decide to appear.

In discussing the matter yesterday Professor Hume declared that no definite offer had been made by the English Club to Miss Anglin and that the whole controversy was a "teapot tempest."

Miss Anglin was elected an honorary member of the English Club of the university some time ago and is declared by heads of the organization to have been in correspondence with them on plans for a summer production when the controversy over the matter came to a head.

The bonds are convertible into 8% Cumulative preferred stock of the Company, which is listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange on the basis of the prevailing sinking fund call price for the bonds and par for the preferred stock with adjustment for interest and dividends.

From a letter of Mr. Frank W. Frueauff, President of the Company, we summarize the details of this issue as follows:

Empire Gas and Fuel Company (Delaware) and its subsidiaries, hereafter referred to as the Company, is one of the largest producers of high-grade refinable crude oil in this country and it also owns and operates a very important Natural Gas system. The oil properties are located in what is commonly called the Mid-Continent Field in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, the most important oil producing district in the United States. The Company is well established and its business combines the four essentials which constitute a complete unit in the Oil Industry, namely: Production, Transportation, Refining and Marketing. An exhaustive study of the Company's business and physical properties has recently been made by independent engineers, who have rendered a very complete report. The Company's reserves of oil and gas lands are among the largest under any single management in this country.

The Natural Gas properties may be released from the lien of the trust indenture upon conditions as stated in detail in the above mentioned President's letter.

These bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be secured (subject to existing and future pledges of oil in storage) by a first mortgage on a part of the property and upon retirement of $12,183,500 underlying bonds due 1926 and 1927 (mortgages closed) by a first mortgage on all the properties now owned or hereafter acquired by the Parent Company (except for purchase money and existing liens upon all of the stocks of the subsidiaries owned by the Company.) Independent engineers have recently determined the replacement cost new of the Company's physical properties alone as in excess of $190,000,000. The reproduction cost new of the Natural Gas properties included in the foregoing figures is approximately $55,000,000, which property may be released from under the trust indenture as therein described. There will be a total of $37,183,500 of bonds outstanding including the present issues. The trust indenture will contain provisions restricting the issuance of additional bonds.

Earnings for the year ended November 30, 1921, after deducting all taxes, $2,100,000 of extraordinary maintenance and over $1,000,000 for inventory adjustment (as certified by Messrs. Marwick, Mitchell & Company). Proceeds direct applicable to bond interest were $6,341,690.87, and for the four years ended November 30, 1921, the earnings directly applicable to bond interest were $72,110,392.12, or an annual average for that period of $18,027,598.03. The annual interest on all bonds outstanding upon completion of present financing requires $4,106,010.

During the four years ended November 30, 1921, the Company has distributed to its common stock in cash less than $6,000,000, as compared with above mentioned earnings for that period of $72,110,392.12.

Based on the Company's balance sheet, the consolidated net assets before deducting bonded debt upon completion of this financing amounted to $195,024,212, and the current asset to $27,531,072 as compared with current liabilities of only $4,837,414.

All of the common stock (except directors' qualifying shares) of Empire Gas and Fuel Company is owned by Cities Service Company which has over 33,000 stockholders and over 23,000 holders of its Bankers' Shares.

Price 98½ and accrued interest to yield over 7.65% to maturity.

COMMERCE GIRLS' DANCE IS SUCCESS

MARTINEZ, April 25.—Making a name for themselves as hostesses and setting a standard in the way of financially and socially successful dances, the balloon ball given by the Commercial Girls' Club of Martinez on Saturday evening is still being commented upon about the community.

Among the original features were the decorations, which consisted of hundreds of balloons which formed a canopy above the dancers' heads and swayed in the str of air. Black silhouettes framed by orange hung on the walls and formed huge golden lanterns which suspended from the ceiling. Every age of the feminine world was depicted, from the little miss with pig-tails to the stately grandmother.

Special credit is due Clarence Netherton, who designed and placed the silhouettes, which added so much to the decorations. Among the special features of the dance was the solo dancing of Miss Elotha Westfall and two of her pupils, Miss Dorothy Wood and Miss Elsie Meyer of Richmond. The jazz toed a nice by little Miss Dorothy was particularly graceful. They were accompanied by Mrs. Joyce Holloway Barthelison at the piano.

Full returns are not as yet in from the ticket sales by club members, but it is expected that a neat sum will be cleared for the

KARL H. VON WIEGAND
Universal Service Staff
Correspondent.

BERLIN, April 25.—The Soviet government has made a lamentable failure of its much-vaunted reforms along the lines of marriage, divorce and motherhood. This is the verdict of Paul Scherer, a writer in the "Berliner Tageblatt," who seems to have gone to Russia neither to condemn nor to condone, but simply to appraise the situation in an objective and judicial manner. Among other things he says:

"There is not the slightest doubt but that one of the cardinal principles of the Soviet creed was the loosening, if not the dissolution, of the marriage bonds. And this principle was accepted by the people in the first flush of fanaticism following upon the revolution, but popular sentiment is already swinging back to the old conventions and traditions.

"In many circles unmarried couples are received and treated as if they were legally married, but on the whole it is astonishing that so little change has taken place in the essential significance of the marriage institution, despite all that the Communist party has done to 'enlighten' people on this subject.

"A woman member of the party confided to me that she was secretly married, but the religious ceremony had not yet been performed, as this would mean her rejection from the ranks of the Communists.

"Divorce has been made incredibly easy; indeed it is possible for a wife to divorce her husband, or vice versa, without the other knowing anything of this action. But the fight for the children has been the cause of so much trouble that even the communistic state is beginning to realize the necessity of more stringent divorce measures, which in turn will lead to a desire for greater stability of the marriage bonds. I was told that many persons had married and unmarried five times within the year, but this epidemic is abating.

"MOTHERHOOD QUESTION.

"The question of motherhood was also sharply influenced by the revolution. A story was told me of a teacher of the most advanced type of Communist who called a fourteen-year-old girl to her desk and in the presence of the entire school commended her for her patriotism in having presented the Soviet state with a child. But along the entire line there is a noticeable tendency to retreat from these ultra-radical viewpoints.

"I have already said that Russia of today is not more 'immoral' than any other country in Europe. The inner kernel of the nation seems to be a strong and permanent element, able to outlive everything imposed upon it by the state, by the political system, the economic collapse and social misery.

"There are no dance halls or moving pictures by which the mind could be diverted from the oppression of everyday cares. A pathetic attempt is made to snatch a few hours of enjoyment from the drab monotony of existence. I attended an informal dance given by the younger and older personnel of one of the government offices. The hall was cold and dimly lighted and the tea and simple cakes on sale at the buffet were beyond the purses of the majority of the participants. But they danced wildly, madly, something which was a cross between a marmalade and a polka, and which they called a 'fox-trot,' in their effort to keep abreast with the rest of the dancing world. All these pleasure-starved people returned to unlighted and unheated rooms.

During the last year Major Morgan has delivered 355 lectures and talks.

HERRING SEASON FAILURE.

LOWESTOFT, England, April 25.—The past season's herring fishing was a disastrous failure. Most of the crews have made nothing for their winter's support.

HARDING MAY AID K. P. DEDICATION

MONTEREY, April 25.—President Harding has promised Monterey Lodge No. 150, Knights of Pythias, that if he is on the coast at the specified time, which it now seems likely he will be, he will be present at the opening of their new Castle hall and assist in its dedication.

The K. of P. is to have a beautiful modern headquarters; the foundations are now being laid for it on Main street, and work pushed rapidly. The structure, the latest word in such buildings, of success, with delicately colored trim, will be an ornament to the street. It will contain lodge room, banqueting hall, kitchen, offices and a beautifully appointed women's room, and will cost, finished and furnished, in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The Knights have been an active organization in Monterey for some twenty-five years, but they have not heretofore attempted building a home for themselves, most of their funds going into sick benefit and other benevolent features of the society. The present membership is about 110, but with the attraction of the new building and its privileges the list is rapidly growing.

W. W. Noyes is chancellor commander, and the building committee who have in charge the new hall with its entire planning and financing are: Sidney Ruthven, chairman, with W. H. McCounell and William Rieckes. It is expected that the new building will be completed in about seventy days from the date of breaking ground.

MORMONS IN GERMANY.

BERLIN, April 25.—Many German girls are joining the Mormons, who have several missionaries quietly at work throughout the country.

Great Britain is becoming nervous about the possibilities of a death-dealing war from the east. It is a certainty that within the next few months there will be increased aerial activities in England.

Four Out of Every Five

Four people out of every five who pass the age of forty, and thousands younger, are marked by Pyorrhea for its victims.

Does that include you?

Startling as these figures are, they are accurate statistics which your dentist will verify.

When Pyorrhea comes, it does its deadly work quickly. It loosens the gums until they recede from the teeth, which drop out or must be pulled.

It forms sinister pus pockets at the roots of the teeth. Germs breed in these pockets, then swarm throughout the system.

Ill health often follows and serious sickness.

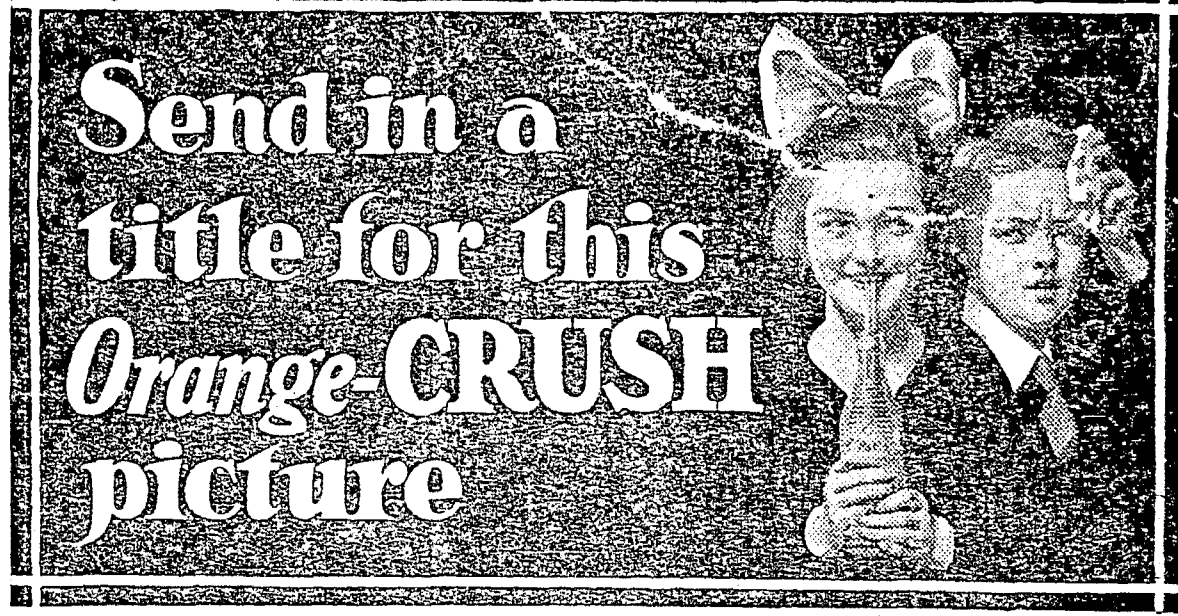

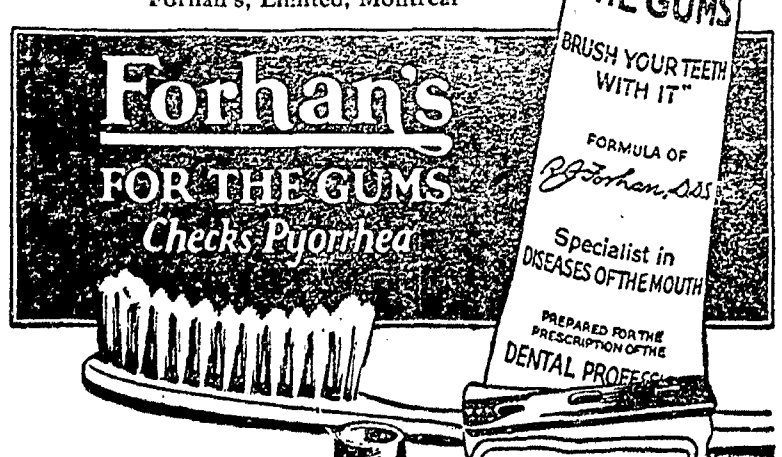

Don't sit idly by and wait for Pyorrhea's coming. At the first danger sign, tender or bleeding gums, consult your dentist and begin using Forhan's For the Gums.

If used consistently, and used in time, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its deadly course. It is the formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S.

Use Forhan's as a dentifrice every day. Brush your teeth with it regularly. It keeps the teeth and gums in a clean, healthy condition.

Don't put off buying Forhan's until tomorrow. Remember—four out of five wait too long. 35c and 60c tubes at your druggist's.

THREE SEALS ARE LEADING THE COAST LEAGUE HITTERS

ARLETT IS LEADING PITCHER OF P. C. L.; VICALDRIDGE IS GOING STRONG IN THE MAJORS

ROOKIES ARE DOING FINE WORK WITH WAR CLUB IN P. C. LEAGUE

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Gene Valla, the young flash who covers the left garden for the San Francisco Seals when left-handed pitchers are not working for the opposition, is attracting a lot of attention these days and if the little fellow keeps up the good work, and is not killed off by too much boosting, he promises to become a very much wanted ball player by the major league scouts in the near future. Bert Ellison continues to lead the Pacific Coast league batters, with his team mate Jimmy O'Connell holding second position, the same as last week. Their averages do not show as high as they did last week, but nevertheless they managed to bat a little harder than did the other players who were immediately behind them. However, they did not bat so hard as to keep young Gene Valla from creeping right up on them, and the little fellow, who looks as big as a minute when trotting in his civies, is holding third honors with an average of .403. He lost several points last week, but not as much as did Ellison and O'Connell.

Players claiming high batting averages like the three Seals who are leading the list of Coast League sluggers must high much more frequently than those batting around .300 in order to retain the same standing. Ellison gathered nine hits, while O'Connell and Valla each gathered eight against the Sacramento Braves.

Don Brown Proving a Good All-Round Man.

Besides being the leading hitter in the league, Bert Ellison has crowded Don Brown, the Oak, out of second position in run scoring. Brown crossed the plate but three times last week, while Ellison went over six times, and came in with a team mate who has scored twenty-two runs. Brown is now tied with Billy Lane of Seattle, with thirteen runs, and is showing signs of being a good all-round man. Manager Ivan Howard switched Brown from leadoff batter to cleanup position because of his failure to keep up with the run scoring pace he set the first two weeks of the season.

Gene Valla continues to be the leading hitter for the Oaks, although he fell from .421 to .395. Red Catthers, who has been in the lead, has not yet started in half the games.

Oakland Batters Are in a Terrible Slump.

That the pitching staff of the local club is not wholly to blame for the defeats of the last couple of weeks is plainly visible in the runs through the batting averages to find that Don Brown is the only regular Oak batter better than .300, and then he is just over the .300 mark. Such fellows as Art Koehler, Ray Brubaker, Claude Cooper, and Denny Vile who were at bat last week, have not yet started to do their stuff with the willow. The Oaks

Duffy Lewis' Bees Are Here To Play Seals

Duffy Lewis and his Salt Lake Bees arrived in San Francisco yesterday and are ready to open a seven-game series with the San Francisco team at Recreation Park this afternoon. Instead of the fans telling Duffy how sorry they are for him and his athletes, they are congratulating him for the way he has led his team to victory since the opening of the season. When the first cry of "play ball" was shouted, Duffy expected Duffy's team to win more than a couple of games a week, but last week at Los Angeles they threw the biggest surprise to date by taking six out of seven games from the Angels.

It took just two men to make the Bees over from what looked to be a Class B team to a Class AA team. Maury Schick and Joe Cartwright were the two men who filled the bill, Schick looking after center field and Cartwright first base. Lewis had some of the material on hand with which to round out a good team, but it couldn't have been done without the securing of a first baseman and outfielder.

This week the fans will watch with interest the series between the Seals and Bees, as it will not only bring a break in success for one of the two, but will also give them a chance to compare the work of Oscar Vitt of the Bees and Willie Kamm of the Seals, both third basemen. A few years ago Vitt was rated one of the best third basemen in the major leagues. Heinie Sand at short and Paddy Egan on second and on the Bees infield with Joe Wilhoit, Paul Strand and Duffy Lewis as the other outfielders. "Butch" Eyer, "Fat" Anderson and Joe Jenkins are the catchers. Continued success for the Bees depends a great deal on the ability of the pitching staff to do its bit.

The Oaks left Portland Sunday for Seattle to play a seven-game series with the Indians, while the Sacramento Senators are at Los Angeles playing the Angels, and the Vernon Tigers are at Portland.

BOWLING Notes on Big League Games

The Trio House League, consisting of one Class A bowler, one Class B bowler and one Class C bowler, starts play this week at Ballard's Bowling Academy. The schedule for the opening week is on Wednesday, April 26. Hughes vs. Lynn, Thursday, April 27. Nelson vs. McCaw and Ballard vs. Ruff.

The College Inn trimmed the J. J. Kreigs two games in the Oakland Handicap League at Ballard's Bowling Academy. The last game was close, but Kreigs won 219 to 215, a walk man rolled. The College Inn won by three pins. O'Toole of the College Inn rolled high series of the Kreigs shot high score of 221. Nelson also shot well for the Kreigs, shooting for 555 for high series for his team.

Gets There in a Hurry

CLARENCE H. DE MAR, of Melrose Highlands, Mass., hero of the Boston Marathon in 1911, who not only won the American long distance classic but shattered the record for the twenty-five mile course. De Mar's time was 2 hours, 18 minutes, 10 seconds—47 3-5 seconds faster than the record established last year by Frank Zuna of the Paulist A. C., New York.

Aldridge Stops the Pirates Notes on Big League Games Williams Hits 5th Homer

Vic Aldridge, formerly of the Los Angeles Club, twirled the Chicago Cubs to another win, and in fact beat the Pittsburgh Pirates by himself, as he put an end to their winning streak, which had run up to six games, and he connected for a triple that put over two runs in the eighth. He also hit a single. The Pirates got but five hits off him.

Hack Miller hit a triple and single, but made an error in left field.

Charley Hollocher hit three singles, while Marty Krug went hitless, but played a swell game at second.

Arnold (Jigger) Stats hit a double and scored a run for the Cubs.

Ray Bohrer and Carson Bigbee, former Coast boys, were in the Pirates lineup and failed to get a hit. Bohrer was charged with a double play.

The New York Yankees retained their good lead on the St. Louis Browns by winning an eleven-inning argument from the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 4. Carl Mays did the pitching for the Yanks.

Al De Vorme, former Vernon catcher, was sent in as a pinch-hitter for the Yankees, and drew a walk, later scoring one of the runs that won the game.

Roger Beckenbaugh connected for two hits, scored a run, stole two bases and played a perfect game at short, to help Washington trim Boston, 11 to 2.

Quinn and Walters started as the battery for Boston, Quinn being the pitcher and Walters hit a single.

Kenneth Williams, formerly of the Portland Beavers, just about beat the Detroit Tigers when he hit a homer in the second inning, when another St. Louis player was on the paths. It was his fifth homer in three days. He also hit a single. Johnny Tobin failed to get a hit in four trips to the plate for the Browns.

The Tigers got nine hits and six of them were distributed among former Coast Leaguers. Lew Blue hit a triple and two singles, while George Cutshaw, Harry Hellman and Fred Haney each hit a single.

"Red" Oldham relieved Dause in the box and was in long enough to be charged with the defeat, and then Sylvester Johnson stepped into action. Jacobson's homer with two on the third was the reason for Oldham being charged with the defeat.

Johnny Bassler did the catching for the Tigers and was charged with an error as well as a passed ball, and failed to get a hit. He was taken out of the game in favor of Manion.

George Cutshaw started a couple of double plays for the Tigers.

Walter Mails started on the hill for the Cleveland Indians, who defeated the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 5, in ten innings. He gave way to a pinch-hitter in the eighth, after the Sox had scored four runs off him. Morton finished and got credit for the win. "Red" Faber did the honors for the White Sox.

Ken Williams Of the Browns Clouts Homers

St. Louis Outfielder Stealing Babe Ruth's Stuff in the Last Few Days.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Kenneth Williams, slugging left fielder of St. Louis Browns, carved himself a niche in Babe Ruth's hitherto exclusive hall of fame yesterday when he clouted out his fifth home run in three days and tied the record made by the Babe last year. Williams hit three homers Saturday and one each Sunday and yesterday.

This wallop, with another round-trip per Jacobson, added the Browns in Downing Detroit and maintaining a tie with Cleveland for second place.

Wally Pipp's home run in the eleventh, with Devermore on base, gave the Yankees a decision over the Philadelphia Athletics and, incidentally, their sixth straight victory.

The Giants noted out the Phillies, 3 to 2, while Cincinnati, although outgunning St. Louis 12 to 7, dropped its seven-run stranglehold on the Pirates and the Browns.

N. Y. Reserve Bank Income Cut in T

NEW YORK, April 25.—Net income of the Federal Reserve bank for the first quarter of 1921 was more than fifty per cent less than that the preceding year, says its annual report.

The reduction in the gross commercial bank deposits from $60,625,000 in 1920, to $34,705,000 in 1921, the report says, "is attributable to a reduction during 1921 of 52 per cent in the bank's earning assets, accompanied by successive reductions in the discount rates from seven to four per cent."

Two factors contributed, the report explains, to a steady decrease in the bank's earning assets. The first was a reduction in the requirements of agriculture and business, resulting from the depression and the business curtailment of 1921, and the second was a reparation of $67,000,000 in gold and silver coins, which found their way into the federal reserve system through the local bank.

VEGETABLES SHOWING SIGNS OF WEAK PRICES

Offerings Growing in Quantity Daily and Demand Is Scarcely Normal.

The California and Hawaiian Sugar Refining Company today announced a cut of 10 cents a hundred pounds in the price of refined sugar, making the price 42.50 against 52.50. Prices of beet sugar were at the same time cut from 52.50 to 42.50. This drop came following the announcement of a reduction in the price of Cuban cane in the east to $5.10 basis.

Prices of new crop vegetables are falling. Beans from the eastern end of the county and Santa Clara county have begun to appear in quantity and are due for a slip in quotations at any moment. Tomatoes as yet are coming only from Mexico, but their offerings are growing rapidly and prices are due for a drop.

Asparagus was quoted at from 8 to 8 1/2 cents a pound. Canners were in the market offering it in some cases 6 1/2 for surplus stock.

New crop onions from the southern end of the state are getting cheaper. Crystal Wax and new yellow onions are about a dollar a crate of 100 pounds lower than a year ago. They are due for another slide in a day or so.

Strawberries are arriving in larger quantities daily. The demand has been very active thus far and the prices firm.

California is to enjoy its share of the prosperity. It is estimated that 50,000 refrigerator cars will be required to move the surplus of the crop grown north of the Tehachapi this year, which number is 10,000 in excess of that of last season. It would take 200 trains to handle the grapes if the crop was all shipped out of the state.

Grapes for export will be shipped in greater quantities than ever before, according to present indications says the California Grape Growers.

Reports from the Todd section are to the effect that but slight damage has been done to the crops of the state such as plums and early apricots, by the frosts, but that the grapes are undamaged.

OCEAN-TO-OCEAN
RADIO TEST WILL BE MADE TODAYTribune Bureau Designated As Receiving Station For Message From East.

Preparations proceeded all this forenoon for an ocean-to-ocean radio test to be made late today when two radio stations on the Pacific coast, both located in Oakland, planned to listen in for a message broadcast by the Newark, N. J. station.

Eugenius H. Outerbridge, chairman of the Port of New York Authority, who recently visited the Pacific coast, was chosen to speak on the other waves at New York, delivering on the air a message to the Oakland and San Francisco boards of harbor commissioners. The TRIBUNE radio station on the Hotel Oakland was designated as the official station for the reception of the message to the Oakland board, while the Rockridge station was designated as the official station to receive the message for the San Francisco board.

SPECIAL APPARATUS.
Special apparatus was installed in the TRIBUNE station for the test. The TRIBUNE station was designated as the official station for the Oakland board, following an exchange of telegrams between the New York commission and Commissioner Albert E. Cresson of Oakland, and Ralph Beebe, engineer for the local commission.

Preston D. Allen, considered one of the best radio men in the country, who is head of the Western Radio Institute and radio expert for the TRIBUNE, was put in charge of the apparatus at this end.

TRIBUNE SENDS REPLY.
The original telegram to the Oakland Board of Harbor Commission was as follows:

"We learn that radio talks from Newark are being heard on the Pacific coast and it will probably interest you to know that Eugenius H. Outerbridge, chairman of the Port of New York Authority, will speak Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, eastern time. We should be glad if members of your commission would listen in at one of the big stations there and notify us if Mr. Outerbridge could be heard. Your courteous co-operation is appreciated by J. Spencer Smith, B. Cresson and the entire commission."

"E. B. PALMER,
"Director Bureau of Information,
"Port of New York Authority."

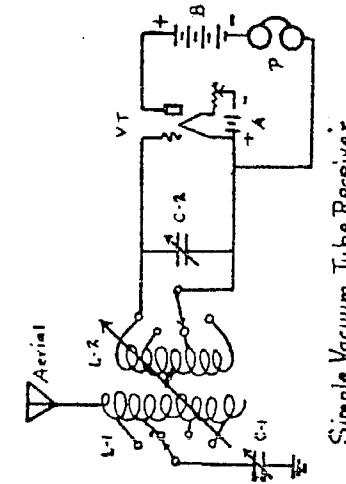

Following an exchange of telegrams between the local commission and Palmer, the TRIBUNE sent the following wire today: "Board of Harbor Commissioners has requested The Oakland TRIBUNE to co-operate in listening in for your chairman's talk by radio tonight. Commission will listen in from our station. Will notify you of results."

THE VACUUM TUBE DETECTOR.
(Copyright, 1922, by Edward M. Davis.)

In contrast to the crystal type of detector the vacuum tube offers marked advantages. The crystal requires careful adjustment in order to receive signals of maximum strength and the adjustment lacks the stability which the vacuum tube affords. For receiving the highly specialized broadcasting features, transmitted on a wavelength of 350 meters, the crystal type of detector offers a limited range of local conditions have considerable bearing on results obtained from the crystal detector but it may be said in general that it affords a satisfactory means of signal reception within a radius of from five to twenty-five miles.

The vacuum tube detector, on the other hand, offers the distinct advantages of increased range, intensified signals and stability of adjustment. Just as in the case of the crystal detector, local conditions influence the range of reception, but in general the substitution of a single vacuum tube as a detector in place of the crystal will result in the reception of signals within a range of from ten to one hundred miles.

In this diagram the open circuit may be made to conform to the radiated wave by adjustment of the primary (L-1) of the receiving transformer and by the short wave condenser (C-1). The secondary (L-2) of the receiving transformer is adjustable in steps and for intermediate wavelengths, tuning is secured by means of the variable condenser (C-2).

external sources of energy are necessary; namely, the "A" and "B" batteries. The "A" battery has a potential of six volts and may be obtained in capacities varying from 35 to 100 ampere hours. The "B" battery provides a potential of from eighteen to twenty-two and one-half volts with a current flow of small amperage. The "A" battery supplies the necessary current for heating the filament, the amount of current being controlled by a small adjustable resistance connected in series. Heating of the filament causes the emission of electrons or small charges of negative electricity from the filament. Careful regulation of the amount of current flowing through the filament will prevent it from being burned out or having its normal length of life considerably reduced. The amount of current differs for various types of tubes and has a range from .2 to 1.5 amperes, the proper amount being recorded on the container in which the tube is purchased.

The plate current is provided by the "B" battery, a storage or dry battery with a potential usually of 22.5 volts. The positive terminal of the battery is connected to the plate, as shown, the current flowing from plate to filament through the receiving telephones to the negative side of the battery.

When the open and closed circuits of this type of receiver are properly tuned to the transmitter, the energy of the radio-frequency oscillations of the radiated wave is rectified by the vacuum tube into uni-directional pulsations which are rendered audible in the receiving telephones.
